U.S. paddling ruling may not help ex-teacher Fender

by KATHERINE BOYCE

A U.S. Supreme Court decision upholding a school's right to use corporal punishment may have little effect on the reinstatement of an Arlington Heights teacher who was fired for cruelty toward children.

John Fender was fired in June 1972, by the Arlington Heights Dist. 25 Board of Education for "violence and cruelty in his relations to students" at Miner Junior High School. A year later the Circuit Court reversed the board's decision to dismiss the teacher and the board appealed its case.

Fender has not been rehired by the district pending the appellate court decision.

Monday the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in a North Carolina case that a parent's right to determine how a child should be disciplined can be overridden by the state's interest in maintaining order in the schools.

John Fender

PARENT Virginia Baker filed suit in 1973 after her sixth-grade son was paddled with a wooden drawer divider after he threw a ball in violation of school rules. Mrs. Baker claimed her son was subjected to "cruel and unusual punishment," a claim the appeals court in North Carolina rejected.

The Supreme Court refused to overturn the decision, saying "reasonable corporal punishment for disciplinary purposes" is permissible, but "except for those acts of misconduct which are so antisocial or disruptive in nature as to shock the conscience" the student must be given certain due process rights.

Lawyers for Fender and the Dist. 25 board said Tuesday the ruling will probably have little effect on Fender's case. Fender attorney, Edward Jackson, saidhe hopes the high court's ruling will carry "some precedence" but added the issues in the two cases "are not the same."

The lower court ruled against the district's firing of Fender because the board failed to give him written notice to cease corporal punishment before charges were brought against him.

Jackson said he did not wish to comment further on the case because it is still before the First Dist. Illinois Appellate Court."With any luck we will have a decision by the beginning of the year," he said.

THE NORTH Carolina parent claimed the school violated the U.S. Constitution by administering "cruel and unusual punishment." Fender charged with battery after parents of a seventh grader signed a complaint alleging Fender hit their daughter across the face and on the head.

Fender was found innocent of the battery charge by a jury in Cook County Court but the board fired him charging he was involved in several incidents in which he allegedly struck students.

Ralph Miller, Dist. 25 attorney, said he didn't feel the North Carolina decision "should affect the Fender opinion one way or another."

"I never felt the Fender case was one involving corporal punishment. I consider it abuse," said Miller. "It's one thing to beat up a kid and another thing to spank him," he said. Miller alleged that Fender struck children on four separate occasions in four months.

MILLER SAID the reporting of corporal punishment cases "show continuous concern over abusing kids in school. I think a time will come when it will be prohibited entirely."

Corporal punishment has been ruled legal in several Illinois court decisions and a move by the General Assembly to outlaw the practice was defeated last spring. The Illinois Office of Education has a rule which says a parent may specifically forbid school officials to use corporal punishment on his child.

Dist. 25 now has a policy which says corporal punishment will be used only as a "last resort," and "striking students in the head or face (except for noninjurious spankings) . . . is not permitted as punishment, nor is any act of physical violence."

Magnus Farm not included

Village OKs proposed Mount Prospect border

by KURT BAER

A proposed boundary agreement between Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect has been approved by the Arlington Heights Village Board despite wrangling among some trustees.

If approved by Mount Prospect, the eventual boundary between the two municipalities will be Douglas Avenue between Central Road on the north and Golf Road on the south.

The agreement also will permit St. Cecilia's Catholic Church on Golf Road to disannex from Arlington Heights in order to become part of Mount Prospect. The disannexation was requested by the church's pastor, the Rev. James Prendergast.

THE 42-ACRE MAGNUS Farm property, 801 E. Central Rd., is not included in the boundary agreement. Officials from both villages apparently have decided to let the property's owners eventually annex to either municipality.

Like the land on both sides of Douglas Avenue, the Magnus Farm, a nursing home, now lies in unincorporated Elk Grove Township.

Some board members, including Village Pres. James T. Ryan, criticized the proposed boundary agreement. Ryan said the contract should include an annexation plan for Magnus Farm and also the unincorporated Lake Briarwood subdivision between Golf Road and the tollway.

OTHER TRUSTEES, and Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson, said they did not think St. Ceceilia's Church should be permitted to disannex. The agreement was approved by a 6-2 vote of the board.

"Years ago we had a (gentleman's) agreement with Mount Prospect that Meier Road would be the boundary. We honored that, but they (Mount Prospect) came west of it," Hanson said.

"We have a 12-inch water main in Golf Road to Forest View High School. We have to protect that, and the vacant area west of the church," he said.

Trustee August C. Bettman said he would "feel more comfortable" about the agreement if the church were to stay in Arlington Heights.

Other trustees said that establishing Douglas Avenue, which lines up with the western boundary of the church, as the border between Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect, would help insure that the potentially valuable vacant land west of the church on Golf Road is eventually annexed to Arlington Heights.

"WE'RE GOING TO have an agreement trading off the church for a line which establishes the west side of the (church) property as a boundary," said Trustee Frank Palmatier.

Prendergast said in a letter to the village board that the church wanted to disannex from Arlington Heights because it was established as St. Cecilia's parish of Mount Prospect.

He also said 60 per cent of the parishoners in the church live in Mount Prospect, and the church building now gets its sewer and water service from Mount Prospect.

At the time it was built, the church petitioned to annex to Arlington Heights. However Prendergast said a recently established parish house is in Mount Prospect.

The church property is exempt from real estate taxes and not financially valuable to either municipality.

BEFORE THE agreement was approved, William Moore, an Arlington Heights attorney who was in the audience for another agenda item, cautioned the board about relying on the "good faith" of an agreement with Mount Prospect.

Similar pacts in the past cost Arlington Heights the Addressograph-Multigraph Corp. plant, 1800 W. Central Rd., and the Old Orchard Country Club property, 700 W. Rand Rd., both of which are now in Mount Prospect, he said.

Moore's comment drew an immediate response from Trustee Richad Durava.

"As long as you keep us (Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect) fighting, it's to your advantage," Durava said in an apparent reference to Moore's frequent representation of land developers.

"I own no property in that area. I'm simply a concerned resident of this community," Moore shot back.

Trustees lukewarm to housing cash

A proposal that Arlington Heights apply for the $295,000 it is entitled to under the U.S. Housing and Community Development Act next year has received only a lukewarm response from the village board.

A motion to hold preliminary hearings before applying for the funds squeaked through the board on a 5-to-3 vote, although none of the trustees voiced any enthusiasm for the program.

Arlington Heights could receive $2.1 million from the program over the next five years.

But the village board rejected the funds last year because some trustees said they were afraid of "strings" attached to the grant.

ONE OF THE "strings" is a requirement that communities accepting the money develop a housing assistance plan for low and moderate income families.

Two public hearings will be held before the board decides whether to apply for 1976 funds no later than its second regularly scheduled meeting in January.

The village's housing commission will be asked to prepare the required housing assistance plan for village board approval.

Last year, the board rejected a plan calling for the creation of 400 units of low and moderate income housing at scattered sites throughout the village. The proposal included 250 subsidized units for senior citizens and 150 units for other low-income persons.

A proposal by Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson that next year's $295,000 be spent on redevelopment of the central business district was rejected by the board Monday night. Trustees said they would await the outcome of the public hearings before setting priorities for the money.

TRUSTEE Alice Harms, who voted against holding the public hearings on a 1976 application, said Tuesday she does not believe the village is any better prepared to deal with the grant money and putting it into the down-

"We are no farther along with our comprehensive plan than we were last time. All we'd be doing is taking the money andputting it into the downtown without tying it to the rest of our plan," she said.

Mrs. Harms said she would follow the public hearings. She said, "It would be foolish to just ignore it." But

Dist. 23 teachers, board expected to sign pay pact

by MARILYN McDONALD

Teachers and board members in Prospect Heights Dist. 23 are expected to sign their newly approved salary agreement tonight giving teachers a 6 per cent across-the-board raise and merit increases in the November paychecks. The increase will be retroactive to the beginning of the school year.

Teachers will receive a $90,000 increase in money spent for merit and across-the-board raises. The money will provide all veteran teachers with the 6 per cent increase and merit awards of $489, $390 and $235 depending on their evaluations, said Kenneth Bates, chief spokesman for the teacher negotiating team.

The base salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree and no experience has been raised from $8,400 to $8,950.

Other features of the salary settlement include:

- A 10 per cent increase in both extra-duty and summer-school pay.
- Sick leave accumulation. Teachers may now accumulate up to 135 days of sick leave rather than 120 days as previously allowed.

Professional travel allocation. Teachers now have a total of $1,500 to spend annually for trips related to professional duties. That same amount was allocated last year, but district officials spent about $500 of it to pay substitute teachers.

- Retiring teachers will be paid $5 for each unused sick day they have accumulated at the time of retirement.
- The addition of a new $10,000 life insurance policy for each teacher, paid by the district. Teachers may purchase additional coverage up to the amount of their salary.
- District reimbursement for teach-

Fulle case a political plot: defense lawyer

The inside story

by AL MESSERSCHMIDT

County Comr. Floyd Fulle's indictment on federal perjury, extortion, and tax fraud charges was plotted to strengthen U.S. Atty. James Thompson's bid for governor, a defense attorney said Tuesday.

Attorney William Jacobs told a U.S. District Court judge that Thompson was forced "to neutralize Fulle's position as chairman of the Cook County Republican Party" to win campaign support.

Fulle reportedly was opposed to Thompson's gubernatorial candidacy and was pledged to support Atty. Gen. William Scott as a condidate for governor.

FULLE WAS the highest ranking Republican indicted during Thompson's term as U.S. attorney. Thompson resigned last summer to run for governor.

Jacobs' opening argument, in the second day of the jury trial, was cut short by U.S. District Court Judge Bernard M. Decker, who refused to allow discussion before the jury of Thompson's role in the Feb. 13 indictment.

When Jacobs mentioned Thompson, Assistant U.S. Atty. Howard M. Hoffmann jumped to his feet and objected. Decker immediately ordered the jury from the courtroom.

"Tell me what your offer of proof is," Decker said. "You'll do it outside the presence of the jury and I'll rule on it."

"MR. THOMPSON, in an effort to neutralize Mr. Fulle as chairman of the party, was instrumental in preparing this indictment," Jacobs answered before Decker barred discussion of Thompson before the jury.

The defense attorney, again repeatedly clashed with Decker over questioning of witnesses and use of documents as evidence. Decker prohibited Jacobs from using an easel and diagrams during his opening statement to show the relationship of the charges against Fulle and government witnesses.

Jacobs' opening argument charged that the Fulle indictment is "papiermache" and that the key witnesses' statements that led to the indictments are not true.

Jacobs' characterization of government witnesses included builder Thomas Origer, former owner of the Chicago Fire football team.

"HE (ORIGER) put up crap — in Mr. Fulle's backyard. He got zoning and then went out and built what he pleased," Jacobs said.

Origer was a "friend" of Rosemont Mayor Donald Stephens and purchased his first parcel of property for development from Stephens and Fulle in 1966. Origer later sought county zoning for 15 land parcels in Maine Township, where Fulle's family has

Auto dealers ready for backlog

New car dealers are ready for work as auto mechanics return to work following a 15-week strike, said C. David Burns, attorney for the Employers Assn. of Greater Chicago Tuesday. The association represents 280 new car dealers in the Chicago metropolitan area.

A three-year contract agreement, approved Sunday by members of Local 701, International Assn. of Machinists, provides a 3-step back-to-work schedule for mechanics affected by the contract dispute. At least 50 per cent of the mechanics were called back Tuesday, another 25 per cent will return to work by Monday, Oct. 27, and the remaining 25 per cent will be on the job by Monday, Nov. 3. Acceptance of the new contract was announced by Donald Gustafson, Local 701 president and business manager.

"We understand they're having a pretty good rush today," Burns said of dealer service Tuesday. "The dealers will gear up so as work comes in they'll have someone to take care of it."

THE NEW CONTRACT will mean some increases in auto service prices, Burns said.

The contract, effective Tuesday, provides wages of $6.75 an hour for the first 40 hours during one week, and a 50-50 split with the dealer on service charges for more than 40 hours work for the first year of the contract. Mechanics previously earned $6.25 an hour plus the split. Mechanics will earn $7.15 an hour for the first 44 hours booked and the split during the second year of the contract starting July 1, 1976. The following year they will earn $7.60 an hour for the first 43 hours booked and $8.60 an hour for additional work. Mechanics had sought to retain the 50-50 split.

Employer pension donations per employe were increased from $8 a week to $10, $11 and $13 respectively for the three years of the contract. Health and welfare payments increased from $10 a week to $14, $15 and $17, respectively. The weekly guaranteed wage increased from $240 to $260, $270 and $283, respectively. Some 4,000 mechanics are affected by the settlement.

Tentative accord on pay in Dist. 54

Tentative agreement was reached late Tuesday on teachers' salaries in Schaumburg Township Dist. 54, but contract talks continued on other points. Teachers were to meet at 6 a.m. today if a settlement was reached to vote on whether to accept the tentative agreement. Schools will open today if a contract is approved, said union officials. Parents were advised to listen to the radio for information on the opening of the schools. Details on the contract settlement were not availabe at Herald press time. Teachers had been asking for a 12.9 per cent salary increase while the board of education was offering a 9.4 per cent salary increase. If the contract is not approved by the teachers, the board and union representatives will return to court today for a hearing on whether the teachers should return to work before Circuit Court Judge Walter Dahl.

Clavey found incompetent

Former Lake County Sheriff Orville Clavey is not competent to stand trial on charges of extortion, perjury and income tax evasion, according to a court-appointed doctor. The doctor reported that Clavey was sane when he allegedly extorted money from the Cheetah II, a tavern featuring nude dancing in Half Day, but is not competent to stand trial now. Clavey also is charged with failure to report income from the alleged shakedowns on his 1971, 1972 and 1973 income tax forms. The U. S. District Court will rule Nov. 13 on the government's request for further medical examinations.

Ruling may not affect teacher

John Fender, an Arlington Heights teacher fired three years ago for cruelty to children may not be affected by the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that upholds a school's right to use corporal punishment. Fender has not been rehired by Arlington Heights Dist. 25 pending the district's appeal of the case to the appellate court. The Circuit Court overturned Fender's dismissal because he had not been warned to stop corporal punishment before his dismissal. Attorneys for Fender said the Supreme Court case and that against their client were not the same but hoped 'some precedence" would be established by the recent ruling.

Auto dealers ready for backlog

New car dealers are ready for work as auto mechanics return to work following a 15-week strike, said C. David Burns, attorney for the Employers Assn. of Greater Chicago Tuesday. The association represents 280 new car dealers in the Chicago metropolitan area.

A three-year contract agreement, approved Sunday by members of Local 701, International Assn. of Machinists, provides a 3-step back-to-work schedule for mechanics affected by the contract dispute. At least 50 per cent of the mechanics were called back Tuesday, another 25 per cent will return to work by Monday, Oct. 27, and the remaining 25 per cent will be on the job by Monday, Nov. 3. Acceptance of the new contract was announced by Donald Gustafson, Local 701 president and business manager.

"We understand they're having a pretty good rush today," Burns said of dealer service Tuesday. "The dealers will gear up so as work comes in they'll have someone to take care of it."

THE NEW CONTRACT will mean some increases in auto service prices, Burns said.

The contract, effective Tuesday, provides wages of $6.75 an hour for the first 40 hours during one week, and a 50-50 split with the dealer on service charges for more than 40 hours work for the first year of the contract. Mechanics previously earned $6.25 an hour plus the split. Mechanics will earn $7.15 an hour for the first 44 hours booked and the split during the second year of the contract starting July 1, 1976. The following year they will earn $7.60 an hour for the first 43 hours booked and $8.60 an hour for additional work. Mechanics had sought to retain the 50-50 split.

Employer pension donations per employe were increased from $8 a week to $10, $11 and $13 respectively for the three years of the contract. Health and welfare payments increased from $10 a week to $14, $15 and $17, respectively. The weekly guaranteed wage increased from $240 to $260, $270 and $283, respectively. Some 4,000 mechanics are affected by the settlement.

Tentative accord on pay in Dist. 54

Tentative agreement was reached late Tuesday on teachers' salaries in Schaumburg Township Dist. 54, but contract talks continued on other points. Teachers were to meet at 6 a.m. today if a settlement was reached to vote on whether to accept the tentative agreement. Schools will open today if a contract is approved, said union officials. Parents were advised to listen to the radio for information on the opening of the schools. Details on the contract settlement were not availabe at Herald press time. Teachers had been asking for a 12.9 per cent salary increase while the board of education was offering a 9.4 per cent salary increase. If the contract is not approved by the teachers, the board and union representatives will return to court today for a hearing on whether the teachers should return to work before Circuit Court Judge Walter Dahl.

Clavey found incompetent

Former Lake County Sheriff Orville Clavey is not competent to stand trial on charges of extortion, perjury and income tax evasion, according to a court-appointed doctor. The doctor reported that Clavey was sane when he allegedly extorted money from the Cheetah II, a tavern featuring nude dancing in Half Day, but is not competent to stand trial now. Clavey also is charged with failure to report income from the alleged shakedowns on his 1971, 1972 and 1973 income tax forms. The U. S. District Court will rule Nov. 13 on the government's request for further medical examinations.

Ruling may not affect teacher

John Fender, an Arlington Heights teacher fired three years ago for cruelty to children may not be affected by the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that upholds a school's right to use corporal punishment. Fender has not been rehired by Arlington Heights Dist. 25 pending the district's appeal of the case to the appellate court. The Circuit Court overturned Fender's dismissal because he had not been warned to stop corporal punishment before his dismissal. Attorneys for Fender said the Supreme Court case and that against their client were not the same but hoped 'some precedence" would be established by the recent ruling.

Panel votes to OK gas tax deductions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee, reversing an earlier decision, voted Tuesday to continue the federal income tax deduction for state and local gasoline taxes.

The committee's decision means that more than 18 million motorists will be able to continue claiming the popular $605 million per year deduction. An earlier vote to repeal it had been considered a victory for liberals attempting to remove a tax incentive for consumption of scarce gasoline.

The committee's decision came on a voice vote. No committee member asked for a roll call vote although chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., paused for several seconds expecting a roll call demand.

A large portion of the $2.7 billion raised in earlier committee decisions on a pending tax revision bill was wiped out by Tuesday's decision. An additional $300 million to $400 million also was erased when the committee decided to soften its earlier votes to curb tax shelters in the real estate and farm industries.

Other amendments are pending which could lose even more Treasury revenue, including a possible revival of a special $1.4 billion provision to bail out Chrysler, Lockheed, Pan American World Airways and other companies which have suffered severe losses.

Few changes other than the gasoline tax reversal were made Tuesday in the committee's original draft, although an amendment was approved allowing child care deductions for relatives.

Under the child care amendment, proposed by Rep. William M. Ketchum, R-Calif., wages paid for child care to relatives who do not live in the home of the taxpayer and who are not dependents could be deducted if the care was necessary to allow both parents to work. Under present law, this deduction is not available for child care wages paid to any relative.

The committee does not expect to get to the sensitive question of individual income tax cuts until Thursday.

Elsewhere in Washington:

Advisers to the Senate Special Committee on Aging recommended increased Social Security protection for women but said they "regrettably" had no suggestions for improving housewives' benefits.

The committee opens two days of hearings Wednesday on "women and Social Security." A three-man, three-woman task force told the committee in a report to be discussed at the hearings that women workers as a group have not been shortchanged by the 40-year-old Social Security system.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco

Franco stricken

MADRID (UPI) — The Spanish government announced Tuesday night that Generalissimo Francisco Franco was stricken with a severe heart ailment but that the 82-year-old chief of state was recovering "satisfactorily."

The statement said Franco met for 45 minutes Tuesday evening with Premier Carlos Arias Navarro.

"During the course of a case of influenza, the chief of state suffered a coronary attack; he is coming along satisfactorily having already begun his recovery and part of his normal activities," the official communique said.

A government official said that "Franco's doctors say they have no worry for him, but are keeping him under close surveillance."

Government sources reported earlier that the chief of state was stricken with an attack of heart inflammation and was in critical condition.

They said Franco might decide to hand over power to his designated successor, 37-year-old Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon.

The official statement said, "at 7 p.m. (2 p.m. CDT) today, his excellency the chief of state received in his office the premier Arias with whom he held a conversation of 45 minutes."

A source close to Arias said Franco sat up during the discussion.

Former agency officials testify:

CIA mail opening of little value

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The CIA opened and copied the mail of Americans for over 20 years although it was known to be illegal and considered of limited intelligence value, former agency officials testified Tuesday.

Among the millions of pieces of mail inspected, according to the officials were "thank you" notes to Russian church leaders from Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate intelligence committee which heard the testimony at a public hearing.

Thomas Abernathy, who was with the CIA inspector general's office from 1959 to 1972, told the panel:

"We were quite surprised to find such an endeavor going on. We recommend that it should be terminated since the result was not sufficient to warrant continuance.

"It was of little value in positive intelligence."

Abernathy and his former CIA colleagues said there was lengthy debate in the agency over whether to drop mail opening operation or, in recognition of its illegality, devise a cover story in the event the practice was discovered.

The Rockefeller commission, set up by President Ford to investigate intelligence operations, said in a report last June that mail to and from communist countries was inspected between 1952 and 1973.

Opening mail is against federal laws, although examination and copying of information from the outside of letters is permissible under strictly limited circumstances involving national security.

Church introduced into evidence CIA files showing that 28,322,796 pieces of mail went through the hands of CIA investigators in New York alone. The envelopes of 2,705,726 letters were photographed and 215,820 were opened.

FBI destroyed Oswald note after his death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An FBI official confirmed Tuesday that a note from President Kennedy's assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, to a Dallas FBI agent was destroyed two hours after Oswald himself was murdered Nov. 21, 1963.

James B. Adam, deputy associate FBI director, told a House Judiciary subcommittee the note had nothing to do with the Kennedy assassination but that "the action was wrong" and that disciplinary action may be taken against those involved. None has received a promotion in the intervening 12 years, he said.

"All who said or heard of the note agree there was no mention of President Kennedy or anything which would have forewarned of the assassination of the President," said Adams, who could offer no motive for the note's destruction.

The FBI's inspections division conducted an investigation after published reports disclosed that Oswald had visited the Dallas FBI bureau shortly before the Nov. 22, 1963, Kennedy assassination, left a threatening note and that the note was destroyed by the FBI after Oswald was killed two days later.

Adams refused to divulge any of the names of those connected with the Oswald incident because of pending possible legal actions, but did not confirm all of the names which have been used in published reports of the incident.

Adams said an unnamed receptionist told the investigators the note, delivered "about a week or 10 days" before the Nov. 22, 1963, Kennedy assassination, read: "Let this be a warning. I will blow up the FBI and the Dallas Police Department if you don't stop bothering my wife."

LYNETTE FROMME arrives at Federal Building in Sacramento.

Ford deposition on Squeaky's action ordered

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — A federal judge Tuesday ordered that President Ford submit a videotaped deposition of what he saw when Manson cultist Lynette Fromme pointed a loaded .45-caliber automatic at him Sept. 5.

"I think that in the circumstances of this case that the President should be asked to testify," U.S. District Judge Thomas J. MacBride declared in granting the unusual motion sought by Miss Fromme.

She was accused of attempted murder in the aiming of a weapon at the President from point blank range as he greeted a crowd of well wishers in California's state Capitol park. The pistol did not fire.

The judge said the video tape deposition would be taken at the White House or any other place convenient to President Ford.

N.Y. rescue barely clears 1st test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A proposal that Congress provide aid to rescue New York City from insolvency barely survived its first test of strength in Congress Tuesday.

The Senate Banking Committee voted 7 to 6 to take up for consideration a proposal to provide a $6 billion federal loan guarantee to keep the city from going into default.

The narrowness of the vote showed the proposal was in trouble. Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., a supporter of a federal rescue effort, said six members of the 13-member committee oppose aid for the city, five favor it and two senators — Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., and Joseph R. Biden, D-Del. — were undecided and held the balance of power.

At the White House, press secretary Ronald Nessen said President Ford remains opposed but refused to predict he would veto any measure Congress passes. He said White House mail and telegrams were almost exactly evenly divided on the issue.

New York Gov. Hugh Carey found some encouragement at a House banking subcommittee hearing and one congressman shouted at him that "the big spenders from New York" had bankrupted their city and state and now were trying to bankrupt the federal government. Carey asked Congress to act within the next 10 to 20 days.

Unable to pay its debts as they become due, the city is expected to be unable even to meet day-to-day payroll and expenses in early December. New York State Comptroller Arthur Levitt testified the state then would default on its debts in the spring.

The impact of default on the national and international economy was the central issue in the Senate panel's debate.

Some economists fear default could trigger a worldwide depression. Others — including Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, a former salesman of New York City bonds — say the market has already discounted the prospect of default by the nation's largest city.

Stevenson, a former Illinois state treasurer, led the opposition, questioning the figures provided by New York authorities. He said federal intervention might damage faith in government.

"The public at large has very little confidence in government," Stevenson said. "For the federal government to move in ways which rightly or wrongly appear imprudent would do more to undermine confidence than staying out."

The committee will meet again Wednesday to consider the options.

Sen. Birch Bayh joins '76 presidential field

• Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana crowded the 1976 presidential field to nine Tuesday and said he thought he could be nominated on the second or third ballot at his party's national convention. Bayh today will officially open his New Hampshire primary campaign. In other political news, the last roll call has started for four veteran senators who will not seek reelection. They are: Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island, 27 years; Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 24 years; Sen. Roman Hruska of Nebraska, 23 years, and Sen. Philip A. Hart of Michigan, 18 years.

• A persistent cold and sinus congestion kept President Ford home from work again Tuesday and, although he said he felt "much better," a spokesman said he probably would be taking it easy the rest of the week. His physician, Dr. William Lukash, is keeping him on antibiotics.

Sen. Birch Bayh

• Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton are spending their second honeymoon living in a tent in the African bush, according to their secretary, Gavin De Becker.

• Twiggy, the wide-eyed cockney girl with the sylph-like figure who became one of the most successful models of the swinging '60s, has marraige plans. She announced at a party to launch her autobiography she plans to wed 45-year-old actor Michael Whitney in London "later this year." The romance began in the United States where the two co-starred in a movie in 1973.

• Former Gov. Stanley Hathaway, who resigned as Interior Secretary after only six weeks, has returned to private law practice in a downtown Cheyenne, Wyo. office building.

• Jack M. Eckerd, head of a chain of southern drug stores and candidate for the U.S. Senate from Florida in 1974, is President Ford's choice to head the General Services Administration, the White house said Tuesday. His name will be submitted to the Senate for confirmation to succeed Arthur F. Sampson, who resigned.

Canadian postal workers strike

Canadian postal workers walked out in a nationwide strike Tuesday and both government and union negotiators said they were ready for a long shutdown of the mail service. In strike action that began during the night in western Canada and rolled east across the country, the 22,000-member Canadian Union of Postal Workers became the first national union to go on strike since tough wage and price controls were imposed on Canada Oct. 13.

Union President Joe Davidson blamed the walkout on Postmaster General Bryce Mackasey's unyielding hand at the bargaining table.

Syria stirring up trouble: Israel

An Israeli official accused Syria Tuesday of stirring up trouble on occupied territory. "We regard this with concern because tough the Golan Heights with shooting incidents and overflights of Israeli-occupied territory.

"We regard this with concern because tough actions are far more serious than tough statements," the official said.

According to the Tel Aviv military command, shots were fired Monday from Syria at an Israeli patrol in the Golan Heights and a Syrian plane flew into Israeli-controlled airspace.

Mao warns Kissinger of Russian detente

Chinese Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung called in Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger for a surprise meeting Tuesday, and diplomatic sources said Mao warned the United States against the dangers of detente with Russia, Peking's arch enemy. The sources said Mao argued that the Soviets are being aggressive in Western Europe and Asia and that the United States could gain nothing from detente.

The summons came with such suddenness that Kissinger was unable to attend a diplomatic reception he was giving for 2,000 persons, including the Soviet delegation to Peking. According to an American source, Kissinger found the Chinese "misunderstanding detente."

Moroccans prepare for Sahara march

A 20,000-strong vanguard of Moroccan volunteers rolled out in trucks Tuesday from the mountain village of Ksar es Souk on a preparatory leg of a marathon march by 350,000 Moroccan civilians into the disputed Spanish Sahara. High school pupils danced in the streets of Rabat to show support for the civilian onslaught to enforce Morocco's claims to the phosphate-rich, Colorado-sized territory.

But outside Morocco, both Spain and the Sahara independence movement urged the United Nations Security Council to stop the march, set to begin this weekend.

Free businessman, IRA renegades urged

Negotiators backed by 200 police and soldiers worked feverishly Tuesday to convince two Irish Republican Army renegades to release the middle-aged Dutch businessman they held barricaded with them in an upstairs bedroom of a two-story house. In Monasterevin, Ireland, Police Special Branch Chief Supt. John Fleming issued his pleas to the kidnapers of Dr. Tiede Herrema while crouching at the bottom of the stairs.

Senate votes natural gas price controls

The Senate voted Tuesday to put even emergency natural gas purchases under price controls this winter to prevent a "gold rush" of higher gas rates. By a 42-37 vote, senators amended pending emergency legislation so as to limit the prices industries may offer in interstate deals for natural gas during the severe gas shortages predicted over the next six months. The Senate bill — which had no price ceiling before the amendment — is expected to win Senate approval Friday.

Grain accord should be treaty: Case

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., urged Tuesday that the U.S.-Soviet grain agreement be submitted to the Senate for ratification as a treaty because of its major international importance. Case, ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a statement, "the nature, term and size of the agreement make it a national commitment beyond the proper competence of the President acting alone.

Patty competency hearing postponed

A scheduled Wednesday court hearing to determine Patricia Hearst's mental competency to stand trial on armed bank robbery charges was postponed Tuesday because all psychiatric tests had not been received. At the same time, an attorney for the newspaper heiress' lover at the time of her capture, Steven Soliah, who is charged with harboring her, filed a motion in U.S. District Court demanding copies of the psychiatric tests and all other material involving proceedings against her in an attempt to link the two cases. Soliah faces trial Dec. 1 on the harboring charges.

The summons came with such suddenness that Kissinger was unable to attend a diplomatic reception he was giving for 2,000 persons, including the Soviet delegation to Peking. According to an American source, Kissinger found the Chinese "misunderstanding detente."

Moroccans prepare for Sahara march

A 20,000-strong vanguard of Moroccan volunteers rolled out in trucks Tuesday from the mountain village of Ksar es Souk on a preparatory leg of a marathon march by 350,000 Moroccan civilians into the disputed Spanish Sahara. High school pupils danced in the streets of Rabat to show support for the civilian onslaught to enforce Morocco's claims to the phosphate-rich, Colorado-sized territory.

But outside Morocco, both Spain and the Sahara independence movement urged the United Nations Security Council to stop the march, set to begin this weekend.

Free businessman, IRA renegades urged

Negotiators backed by 200 police and soldiers worked feverishly Tuesday to convince two Irish Republican Army renegades to release the middle-aged Dutch businessman they held barricaded with them in an upstairs bedroom of a two-story house. In Monasterevin, Ireland, Police Special Branch Chief Supt. John Fleming issued his pleas to the kidnapers of Dr. Tiede Herrema while crouching at the bottom of the stairs.

Senate votes natural gas price controls

The Senate voted Tuesday to put even emergency natural gas purchases under price controls this winter to prevent a "gold rush" of higher gas rates. By a 42-37 vote, senators amended pending emergency legislation so as to limit the prices industries may offer in interstate deals for natural gas during the severe gas shortages predicted over the next six months. The Senate bill — which had no price ceiling before the amendment — is expected to win Senate approval Friday.

Grain accord should be treaty: Case

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., urged Tuesday that the U.S.-Soviet grain agreement be submitted to the Senate for ratification as a treaty because of its major international importance. Case, ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a statement, "the nature, term and size of the agreement make it a national commitment beyond the proper competence of the President acting alone.

Patty competency hearing postponed

A scheduled Wednesday court hearing to determine Patricia Hearst's mental competency to stand trial on armed bank robbery charges was postponed Tuesday because all psychiatric tests had not been received. At the same time, an attorney for the newspaper heiress' lover at the time of her capture, Steven Soliah, who is charged with harboring her, filed a motion in U.S. District Court demanding copies of the psychiatric tests and all other material involving proceedings against her in an attempt to link the two cases. Soliah faces trial Dec. 1 on the harboring charges.

Former agency officials testify:

CIA mail opening of little value

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The CIA opened and copied the mail of Americans for over 20 years although it was known to be illegal and considered of limited intelligence value, former agency officials testified Tuesday.

Among the millions of pieces of mail inspected, according to the officials were "thank you" notes to Russian church leaders from Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate intelligence committee which heard the testimony at a public hearing.

Thomas Abernathy, who was with the CIA inspector general's office from 1959 to 1972, told the panel:

"We were quite surprised to find such an endeavor going on. We recommend that it should be terminated since the result was not sufficient to warrant continuance.

"It was of little value in positive intelligence."

Abernathy and his former CIA colleagues said there was lengthy debate in the agency over whether to drop mail opening operation or, in recognition of its illegality, devise a cover story in the event the practice was discovered.

The Rockefeller commission, set up by President Ford to investigate intelligence operations, said in a report last June that mail to and from communist countries was inspected between 1952 and 1973.

Opening mail is against federal laws, although examination and copying of information from the outside of letters is permissible under strictly limited circumstances involving national security.

Church introduced into evidence CIA files showing that 28,322,796 pieces of mail went through the hands of CIA investigators in New York alone. The envelopes of 2,705,726 letters were photographed and 215,820 were opened.

FBI destroyed Oswald note after his death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An FBI official confirmed Tuesday that a note from President Kennedy's assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, to a Dallas FBI agent was destroyed two hours after Oswald himself was murdered Nov. 21, 1963.

James B. Adam, deputy associate FBI director, told a House Judiciary subcommittee the note had nothing to do with the Kennedy assassination but that "the action was wrong" and that disciplinary action may be taken against those involved. None has received a promotion in the intervening 12 years, he said.

"All who said or heard of the note agree there was no mention of President Kennedy or anything which would have forewarned of the assassination of the President," said Adams, who could offer no motive for the note's destruction.

The FBI's inspections division conducted an investigation after published reports disclosed that Oswald had visited the Dallas FBI bureau shortly before the Nov. 22, 1963, Kennedy assassination, left a threatening note and that the note was destroyed by the FBI after Oswald was killed two days later.

Adams refused to divulge any of the names of those connected with the Oswald incident because of pending possible legal actions, but did not confirm all of the names which have been used in published reports of the incident.

Adams said an unnamed receptionist told the investigators the note, delivered "about a week or 10 days" before the Nov. 22, 1963, Kennedy assassination, read: "Let this be a warning. I will blow up the FBI and the Dallas Police Department if you don't stop bothering my wife."

LYNETTE FROMME arrives at Federal Building in Sacramento.

Ford deposition on Squeaky's action ordered

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — A federal judge Tuesday ordered that President Ford submit a videotaped deposition of what he saw when Manson cultist Lynette Fromme pointed a loaded .45-caliber automatic at him Sept. 5.

"I think that in the circumstances of this case that the President should be asked to testify," U.S. District Judge Thomas J. MacBride declared in granting the unusual motion sought by Miss Fromme.

She was accused of attempted murder in the aiming of a weapon at the President from point blank range as he greeted a crowd of well wishers in California's state Capitol park. The pistol did not fire.

The judge said the video tape deposition would be taken at the White House or any other place convenient to President Ford.

N.Y. rescue barely clears 1st test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A proposal that Congress provide aid to rescue New York City from insolvency barely survived its first test of strength in Congress Tuesday.

The Senate Banking Committee voted 7 to 6 to take up for consideration a proposal to provide a $6 billion federal loan guarantee to keep the city from going into default.

The narrowness of the vote showed the proposal was in trouble. Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., a supporter of a federal rescue effort, said six members of the 13-member committee oppose aid for the city, five favor it and two senators — Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., and Joseph R. Biden, D-Del. — were undecided and held the balance of power.

At the White House, press secretary Ronald Nessen said President Ford remains opposed but refused to predict he would veto any measure Congress passes. He said White House mail and telegrams were almost exactly evenly divided on the issue.

New York Gov. Hugh Carey found some encouragement at a House banking subcommittee hearing and one congressman shouted at him that "the big spenders from New York" had bankrupted their city and state and now were trying to bankrupt the federal government. Carey asked Congress to act within the next 10 to 20 days.

Unable to pay its debts as they become due, the city is expected to be unable even to meet day-to-day payroll and expenses in early December. New York State Comptroller Arthur Levitt testified the state then would default on its debts in the spring.

The impact of default on the national and international economy was the central issue in the Senate panel's debate.

Some economists fear default could trigger a worldwide depression. Others — including Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, a former salesman of New York City bonds — say the market has already discounted the prospect of default by the nation's largest city.

Stevenson, a former Illinois state treasurer, led the opposition, questioning the figures provided by New York authorities. He said federal intervention might damage faith in government.

"The public at large has very little confidence in government," Stevenson said. "For the federal government to move in ways which rightly or wrongly appear imprudent would do more to undermine confidence than staying out."

The committee will meet again Wednesday to consider the options.

Sen. Birch Bayh joins '76 presidential field

• Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana crowded the 1976 presidential field to nine Tuesday and said he thought he could be nominated on the second or third ballot at his party's national convention. Bayh today will officially open his New Hampshire primary campaign. In other political news, the last roll call has started for four veteran senators who will not seek reelection. They are: Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island, 27 years; Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 24 years; Sen. Roman Hruska of Nebraska, 23 years, and Sen. Philip A. Hart of Michigan, 18 years.

• A persistent cold and sinus congestion kept President Ford home from work again Tuesday and, although he said he felt "much better," a spokesman said he probably would be taking it easy the rest of the week. His physician, Dr. William Lukash, is keeping him on antibiotics.

Sen. Birch Bayh

• Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton are spending their second honeymoon living in a tent in the African bush, according to their secretary, Gavin De Becker.

• Twiggy, the wide-eyed cockney girl with the sylph-like figure who became one of the most successful models of the swinging '60s, has marraige plans. She announced at a party to launch her autobiography she plans to wed 45-year-old actor Michael Whitney in London "later this year." The romance began in the United States where the two co-starred in a movie in 1973.

• Former Gov. Stanley Hathaway, who resigned as Interior Secretary after only six weeks, has returned to private law practice in a downtown Cheyenne, Wyo. office building.

• Jack M. Eckerd, head of a chain of southern drug stores and candidate for the U.S. Senate from Florida in 1974, is President Ford's choice to head the General Services Administration, the White house said Tuesday. His name will be submitted to the Senate for confirmation to succeed Arthur F. Sampson, who resigned.

Trust honors Daisy Paddock Daniels

Daisy Daniels

A trust has been established in memory of the late Daisy Paddock Daniels, a lifelong resident of Arlington Heights who recorded the village's history in her book, "Prairieville, U.S.A."

The trust — known as the Prairieville, U.S.A. trust — was set up by Mrs. Daniels' sister Jeannette Paddock Nichols, who donated $2,500. The money will be used by the Arlington Heights Historical Society to preserve materials used by Mrs. Daniels while writing her book.

Money from the trust also will be used to create dioramas of the history of Arlington Heights for use in the schools; Stephen Jurco, historical society attorney, said. He said the society hopes to "have pretty much a chronological sequence" of the book.

MRS. DANIELS compiled the history of Arlington Heights and surrounding communities from the time of the French and Indian Wars. She worked on the manuscript of the book for 15 years, piecing together handwritten notes and gathering newspaper clippings from the village's earliest days. She also interviewed hundreds of residents.

Mrs. Daniels was a co-founder of the Arlington Heights Historical Society. While compiling the history of the community, she presented hundreds of lectures to children and various organizations.

She received several honors including being named an outstanding citizen by the Arlington Heights Rotary Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. She also was commended by the Arlington Heights Village Board for "accurately recording the history of this community."

Jurco said contributions to the trust may be made through the historical society or The Bank and Trust Co. of Arlington Heights, 900 E. Kensington Rd.

er professional dues. The district will now reimburse teachers up to $15 annually for professional organization dues other than union dues. The district previously paid $10.

The agreement also promises to pay teachers 21.5 per cent of state aid the district receives over and above its expected $902,000. The district could receive an additional $10,000 state aid if the Illinois General Assembly overrides Gov. Daniel Walker's vetos of several bills.

Teachers will also have a $1,000 mini-grant program from which they may apply for up to $100 grants to be used for classroom programs. The grant applications will be screened by the superintendent's advisory committee — a committee of teachers and administrators.

Visit police department

Park School pupils study crime

by KATHERINE BOYCE

Students at Park School in Arlington Heights came face to face with crime in the Northwest suburbs when they visited the Arlington Heights Police Dept. last week.

The students had a myriad of questions for the police along with several e y e-opening experiences, showing them the reality of crime.

The tour was part of a Bicentennial study of the village of Arlington Heights and the city of Chicago. The 63 fifth graders were greeted by Village Pres. James Ryan before a walking tour of the municipal center and a bus tour of historical sites in the village. Fourth graders took the same tour a day later.

AT THE STATION, the students had a look at the detention cells complete with prisoners, the squad room with its mug shots of "known offenders," the crime lab where suspects are fingerprinted, the communications room which takes calls from citizens and dispatches police to the scene of a crime, and the department's pistol range where patrolmen sharpen their marksmenship in training sessions every six months.

"Which television show is the most true about police stations?" one student asked. David Bruener, officer in communications, gave a plug to "Police Story."

The students also asked how much money a police officer earns a year, how old a policeman must be, what is the most common offense, and whether the police ever use a "line-up" to identify criminals like they do on television.

ONE BOY POINTED to the mug shots on the wall in the squad room and asked, "Are any of those guys up there dope pushers?" Sgt. Richard Robinson, a detective, said some were suspected of pushing drugs.

THE STUDENTS had many questions about drugs when they reached the detectives' office and saw evidence taken in arrests including hashish pipes, heroin, marijuana, a syringe and a display of guns, the most powerful being a .357 Magnum. Sgt. Robinson explained the dangers of drug use and the picture he painted was a grim one. One boy fainted in the excitement and heat of the crowded room.

But the students seemed to catch the significance of their visit.

One student asked Sgt. Robinson, "Do you think if you brought more people to look at the police station that there would be less criminals?"

McDougall gets Mendota police chief position

Capt. Irvin McDougall of the Arlington Heights Police Dept. will become police chief of Mendota, Ill. Jan. 1.

McDougall, a 25-year Arlington Heights police veteran, won approval for the job Monday night from the Mendota City Council. Mendota is in central Illinois at the crossroads of U.S. Routes 51 and 34. "I am enthused and encouraged by it," McDougall said. "I consider it another challenge."

McDOUGALL IS the second Arlington Heights police captain in a month to announce his resignation from the department to take up a police chief's position.

Starting Nov. 1, Capt. Jack Aldrich leaves the department to become police chief of Barrington Hills.

McDougall, 49, is the former president of the Illinois Police Assn. and a member of the Illinois Local Government's Law Enforcement Training Board, which governs state training curricula.

McDougall joined the Arlington Heights force in 1950 after serving about two years as a state trooper. He has served in every division of the police department.

"I'M GOING TO miss Arlington Heights," McDougall said. "But from what I understand, they (Mendota) have a good police department."

McDougall will head up a 12-man department in Mendota.

McDougall, like Aldrich, has spent most of his life in Arlington Heights. At one time, the two found themselves in the same pre-school Sunday School at the Methodist Church of Arlington Heights.

The way we see it

Justice system did work well

Watergate, Watergate, Watergate. Sometimes you have to wonder whether it'll be with us forever.

Last week the Watergate special prosecutor's office issued a report which attempts to tie up the loose ends in this nation's worst political scandal.

But despite the fact that Watergate has been analyzed to death, there's an often-repeated truth which should be repeated once again: our system of justice works.

Granted, it took the system a long time to send many of those involved to prison and to force the removal of Richard Nixon. But the bottom line of Watergate is that the "cancer" which almost paralyzed our federal government was removed.

Factual findings in the latest report are not critical to most of the central issues in the scandal. Nevertheless, the report does offer two intriguing recommendations for preventing future Watergate-type problems:

• The President should not name anyone to be attorney general nor to occupy other high Justice Department positions who had served in a high-level position in a President's campaign.

• Congress should draw up a Constitutional amendment clarifying whether a sitting President may be indicted.

Both of these recommendations are understandable, considering the scale of the scandal. But what we don't need are unnecessary laws or Constitutional amendments designed to make another Watergate impossible.

On the first suggestion, it's a good rule of thumb that campaign directors should best avoid becoming the top law officer in the land. The danger of politicizing the office is obvious, but there might be in the future honest and capable campaign directors who could serve justice and not compromise it. They should not be precluded from serving.

Also, Constitutional amendments should be avoided wherever possible. Our system of justice does not define whether a sitting President can be indicted, but it does mandate impeachment when necessary.

Our rejection of these solutions doesn't mean we regard our system of ferreting out federal scandal as flawless. The critical point to remember, however, is that our federal law enforcement system is effective as is, and it should only be changed when absolutely necessary.

The almanac

(by United Press International)

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 22, the 295th day of 1975 with 70 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning stars are Venus, Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

The evening star is Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Libra.

Hungarian composer Franz Liszt was born Oct. 22, 1811. This is actress Joan Fontaine's 58th birthday.

On this day in history:

• In 1836, Gen. Sam Houston was sworn in as the first president of the Republic of Texas.

• In 1962, President John F. Kennedy announced an arms blockade of Cuba after Soviet missiles were discovered on the Communist island 90 miles from Florida.

• In 1968, the three Apollo 7 astronauts splashed down after an 11-day orbital flight.

• In 1973, the AFL-CIO and the American Bar Association called for President Nixon to resign or be impeached as the Watergate furor grew.

A thought for the day: German poet Rainer Maria Rilke said, "A good marriage is that in which each appoints the other guardian of his solitude."

'Skeptical' on water rate hike

The recent request of the village manager for a 40 per cent increase in water rates creates an issue that should concern every property owner in Mount Prospect and evoke the thoughtful consideration of the village board. Whether we choose to recognize it or not, the fact is that the village water department is actually a municipally owned utility whose sole function is to supply potable water to the residents of Mount Prospect. The very fact that water is charged to residents separately from property taxes attests to this statement. The water rates, therefore, should reflect the true cost of providing this service. Indeed, the time may not be too far distant when these rates will be examined and controlled by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

It would be grossly unfair to expect a property owner to subsidize an industrial user of water, or even a neighbor, who chooses to turn his backyard into a semi-tropical jungle. I am perfectly willing to pay my share of the cost of providing water to my home, but I do object to the manager's use of an astronomical rate increase as a means of closing whatever fiscal gap he perceives at the moment. I would also object to the board voting on the basis of the direction of current political winds.

While it has been stated that the present water rates are below actual costs, I am somewhat skeptical. I have serious reservations that the village's accounting methods are sufficiently precise to determine the true cost of the water department operation. My skepticism was reinforced by The Herald's account that $95,000 had been budgeted to an account that, early in the fiscal year, has required $240,000. My advice to the board is to meet the manager's request on Oct. 28 with some very pointed questions.

'No village error'

Your paragraph in the "Committee Wrap-up" box on page 5 of the Oct. 8 Herald, which reports action taken regarding a garden shed, requires some clarification.

First, the shed is not adjacent to the home, as you state, but is an in-line addition to a separate garage built before the present zoning codes were enacted.

Second, and more important, there was no error made by the Palatine village building department, as your story indicates. My inquiry to the building department, made over a year ago, regarding the necessity for a building permit resulted in a misunderstanding on my part.

'Develop solid waste as a fuel'

I am glad to see The Herald has publicized the fact that the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality has proposed that the Northwest suburbs take steps to turn one of our largest resources, solid waste, into a power-producing commodity.

Many areas of the country are either doing this or have it in the planning stages. With our energy sources in supposedly short supply, it makes sense that we use solid waste, of which the Chicago area produces millions of tons a year, to help produce our electric power.

I hope the Northwest Environmental Council does not drag its feet in this matter and that before long we will be using solid waste, not as landfill, but a good and much-needed fuel.

Dist. 54 strike: board president's attitude criticized...

I have been following daily the reports in The Herald regarding the negotiations between Dist. 54 teachers and the board and must admit I was really disappointed in Dr. Feldman's attitude. It is a shame that his medical practice is being disrupted; but so are a lot of homes going to disrupt if the teachers strike.

I cannot believe Dr. Feldman is talking about a lawsuit because of the phone calls he is receiving at his office! As president of the board, it is understandable that Dr. Feldman would be the one person everyone is looking to for a solution, and it is very frustrating to have the man unavailable for any comment.

I have written Dr. Feldman and received an answer to my letter assuring me that the board is going to do everything possible to settle this problem, but I have little faith, if the president of the board is unavailable, let alone becoming upset that the parents are trying to contact him because they are upset! This is one of the times when being an active community member, such as Dr. Feldman, is going to interfere with normal work-a-day lives, and Dr. Feldman is the only guy we can take our problem to.

Since I do not know the board's reasoning in not settling the salary dispute (I believe the board feels we parents are not able to understand the complex issues) I can only say that if there is money in the budget to cover the salary increases, what is the problem?

With the cost of living being such as it is, and considering the out-of-class time the teachers put in every day along with their efforts, in order to maintain the high quality of education we have in this district we are going to have to pay. Our system is, in my estimation, one of the finest in the area, and I have alwys been happy that my children have the benefit of this type of educational facilities. You only get what you pay for, though. Most teachers have been underpaid, but let's not include our district. As shown in the recent strikes in other areas, a strike only forces the issue and then all reasonable communication gives way to frantic negotiations and unrealistic demands and no one gains.

With one child in the special education class, there are not enough words of praise for the type of learning he is receiving, especially for the genuine feelings expressed by all those who are working with him every day. These are not just teachers, but people who really care in making the children achieve their highest goals, not later in life. That's more than can be expected from a teacher. These people are putting their whole lives into the lives of these children, with their only reward being the children's accomplishments. Not many parents even tell them thanks.

Yet a strike will only hurt the children more than anything else.

Sure, we Moms will have to stay home or find babysitters, and we could grumble for the schools being closed; it gets our little darlings out of our hair for six hours of the day. But what about the kids? They have just started into the school year and are just beginning t learn new things; reading, writing, printing, colors, geography, etc. They have just gotten into their routines and a couple of weeks off will just wash down the drain the past few weeks of the new school year.

Unfortunately, the students having trouble, or slow to learn, or just catching on to something new will be the ones dropped back to the beginning again. It's not fair to them.

I hope Dr. Feldman will put things in the proper perspective. As he explained in his letter, a third party for negotiations is not possible, so get out there and negotiate like crazy, Doc! If this is settled, you can go back to your practice without being bothered by us nervous parents, and we can stop worrying, and the kids can go to school, and the teachers can collect the salaries they just deserve for their efforts, and best of all, this whole mess will have a happy ending, fading into the sunset with smiles on everyone's faces.

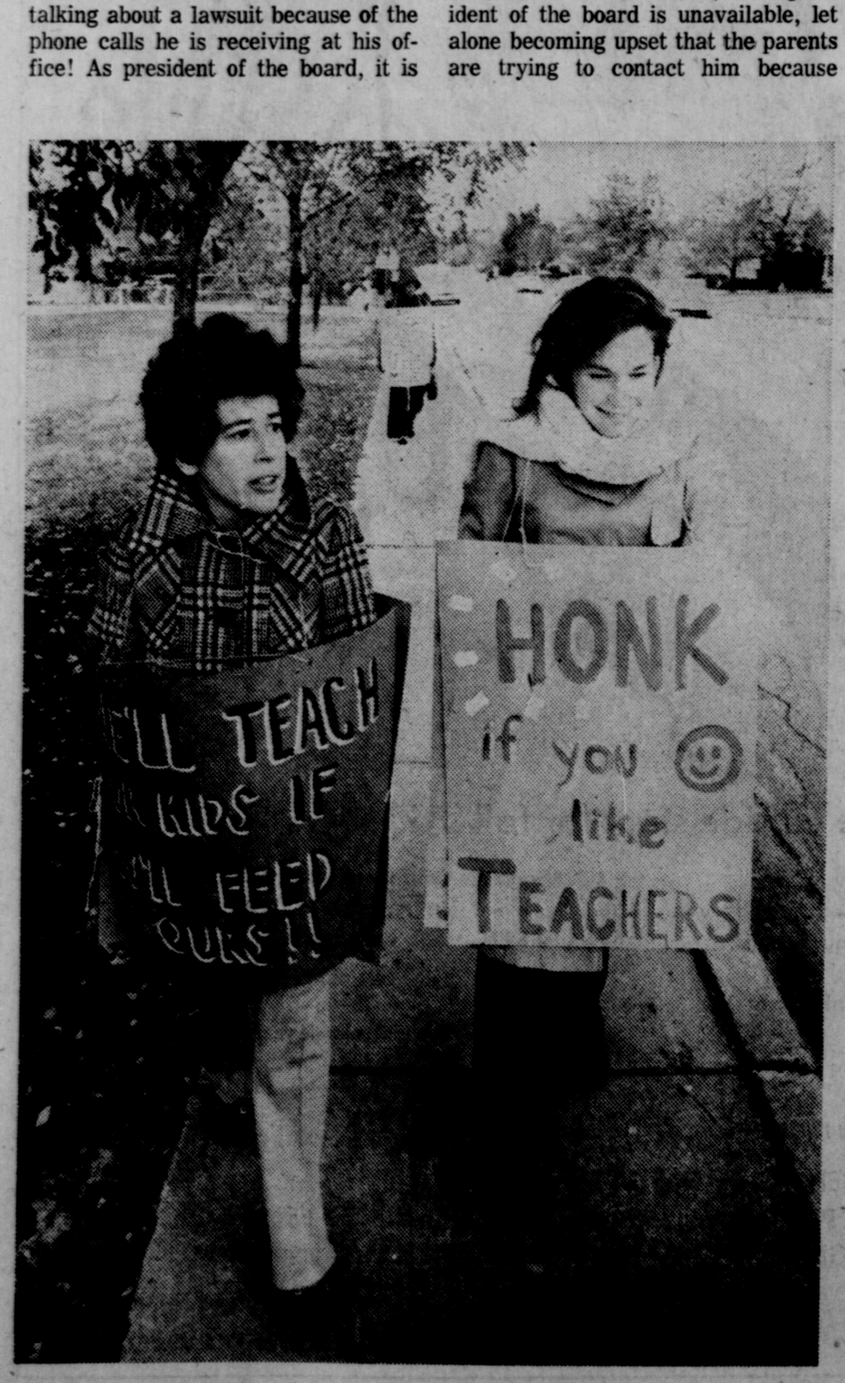
EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was written before the teachers struck Dist. 54 on Friday Oct. 17.



...SEA head calls strike by teachers reluctant 'last choice' in School Dist. 54

As president of SEA, I want to make it very clear that no teacher has any desire whatsoever to strike. If there had been such a desire, it would have happened much earlier than seven weeks after school began and 10 months after negotiations started. But I also firmly believe that virtually all citizens, if they really understood the issues and knew what has actually taken place, would come to the conclusion, however reluctantly, that the teachers really had no choice. The only alternative was to cave in to the unlawful and irresponsible behavior of a few board members who appear to have actually wanted this strike in order to manipulate public opinion against the Schaumburg Education Association.

We sincerely hope that all citizens, especially those who have been so quick to criticize the teachers without knowing what has really occurred, would seriously consider the following observations:

• What we are asking for is fair. It is not, as reported, a 12.9 per cent increase. Rather, we are asking for a 9.1 per cent across the board increase to make up for the cost-of-living increase of 8 per cent last year and to partially cover the 6 per cent loss we suffered the year before. The board has offered only a 5.7 per cent cost-of-living adjustment (not the 9.4 per cent which it misleadingly reports), which would mean that we would experience a real loss for the second year in a row, despite the board's solemn promise in 1973 to make full adjustments for the cost-of-living for the duration of a multi-year contract. What the board is doing is an outright breach of that promise.

• The district has ample surplus with which to grant a full cost-of-living adjustment. This is not, and this should be absolutely clear, this is not a case of the teachers demanding money which the board does not have. The "fiscal responsibility" claimed by the board is, as the board majority well knows, a smokescreen designed to cloud the issues.

• We have been willing at all times to let a neutral third party judge whether our requests are fair. The board has absolutely refused this sensible solution. The reason why the board has refused, regardless of other reasons stated, all of which can be easily refuted, is that it knows that it has not been bargaining in good faith and that a neutral third party might point that out to the public.

• By secret ballot, the teachers rejected by a 94 per cent vote a board offer of 5.5 per cent cost-of-living adjustment. In that same secret ballot, 75 per cent authorized the SEA Board of Representatives to call a strike. If the board's offer were even close to being fair, we would not have received such overwhelming majorities from a group of teachers who sincerely care about teaching children and have never gone on strike before.

All of us are genuinely sorry that it had to conclude that this strike was the last resort to expose to the public the frustration of the teachers over the last 10 months. To not have made use of this last resort and thereby permit the board's unfair stance to continue would have been far worse in the long run.

Editor's Note: The salary proposals used in The Herald stories concerning the Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 contract dispute include the 5 per cent annual increase given to teachers in the district for an additional year of experience. That fact has been referred to when the 12.9 per cent union demand and 9.4 per cent board offer are used in stories.

ST. JOHN'S, Canada, Oct. 22 — A force of Americans sought to set up a battery wthin 100 yards of the beseiged British fort but were discovered and driven away by "grape shot, cannon balls and bomb shells."

The way we see it

Justice system did work well

Watergate, Watergate, Watergate. Sometimes you have to wonder whether it'll be with us forever.

Last week the Watergate special prosecutor's office issued a report which attempts to tie up the loose ends in this nation's worst political scandal.

But despite the fact that Watergate has been analyzed to death, there's an often-repeated truth which should be repeated once again: our system of justice works.

Granted, it took the system a long time to send many of those involved to prison and to force the removal of Richard Nixon. But the bottom line of Watergate is that the "cancer" which almost paralyzed our federal government was removed.

Factual findings in the latest report are not critical to most of the central issues in the scandal. Nevertheless, the report does offer two intriguing recommendations for preventing future Watergate-type problems:

• The President should not name anyone to be attorney general nor to occupy other high Justice Department positions who had served in a high-level position in a President's campaign.

• Congress should draw up a Constitutional amendment clarifying whether a sitting President may be indicted.

Both of these recommendations are understandable, considering the scale of the scandal. But what we don't need are unnecessary laws or Constitutional amendments designed to make another Watergate impossible.

On the first suggestion, it's a good rule of thumb that campaign directors should best avoid becoming the top law officer in the land. The danger of politicizing the office is obvious, but there might be in the future honest and capable campaign directors who could serve justice and not compromise it. They should not be precluded from serving.

Also, Constitutional amendments should be avoided wherever possible. Our system of justice does not define whether a sitting President can be indicted, but it does mandate impeachment when necessary.

Our rejection of these solutions doesn't mean we regard our system of ferreting out federal scandal as flawless. The critical point to remember, however, is that our federal law enforcement system is effective as is, and it should only be changed when absolutely necessary.

'Skeptical' on water rate hike

The recent request of the village manager for a 40 per cent increase in water rates creates an issue that should concern every property owner in Mount Prospect and evoke the thoughtful consideration of the village board. Whether we choose to recognize it or not, the fact is that the village water department is actually a municipally owned utility whose sole function is to supply potable water to the residents of Mount Prospect. The very fact that water is charged to residents separately from property taxes attests to this statement. The water rates, therefore, should reflect the true cost of providing this service. Indeed, the time may not be too far distant when these rates will be examined and controlled by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

It would be grossly unfair to expect a property owner to subsidize an industrial user of water, or even a neighbor, who chooses to turn his backyard into a semi-tropical jungle. I am perfectly willing to pay my share of the cost of providing water to my home, but I do object to the manager's use of an astronomical rate increase as a means of closing whatever fiscal gap he perceives at the moment. I would also object to the board voting on the basis of the direction of current political winds.

While it has been stated that the present water rates are below actual costs, I am somewhat skeptical. I have serious reservations that the village's accounting methods are sufficiently precise to determine the true cost of the water department operation. My skepticism was reinforced by The Herald's account that $95,000 had been budgeted to an account that, early in the fiscal year, has required $240,000. My advice to the board is to meet the manager's request on Oct. 28 with some very pointed questions.

'No village error'

Your paragraph in the "Committee Wrap-up" box on page 5 of the Oct. 8 Herald, which reports action taken regarding a garden shed, requires some clarification.

First, the shed is not adjacent to the home, as you state, but is an in-line addition to a separate garage built before the present zoning codes were enacted.

Second, and more important, there was no error made by the Palatine village building department, as your story indicates. My inquiry to the building department, made over a year ago, regarding the necessity for a building permit resulted in a misunderstanding on my part.

'Develop solid waste as a fuel'

I am glad to see The Herald has publicized the fact that the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality has proposed that the Northwest suburbs take steps to turn one of our largest resources, solid waste, into a power-producing commodity.

Many areas of the country are either doing this or have it in the planning stages. With our energy sources in supposedly short supply, it makes sense that we use solid waste, of which the Chicago area produces millions of tons a year, to help produce our electric power.

I hope the Northwest Environmental Council does not drag its feet in this matter and that before long we will be using solid waste, not as landfill, but a good and much-needed fuel.

Dist. 54 strike: board president's attitude criticized...

I have been following daily the reports in The Herald regarding the negotiations between Dist. 54 teachers and the board and must admit I was really disappointed in Dr. Feldman's attitude. It is a shame that his medical practice is being disrupted; but so are a lot of homes going to disrupt if the teachers strike.

I cannot believe Dr. Feldman is talking about a lawsuit because of the phone calls he is receiving at his office! As president of the board, it is understandable that Dr. Feldman would be the one person everyone is looking to for a solution, and it is very frustrating to have the man unavailable for any comment.

I have written Dr. Feldman and received an answer to my letter assuring me that the board is going to do everything possible to settle this problem, but I have little faith, if the president of the board is unavailable, let alone becoming upset that the parents are trying to contact him because they are upset! This is one of the times when being an active community member, such as Dr. Feldman, is going to interfere with normal work-a-day lives, and Dr. Feldman is the only guy we can take our problem to.

Since I do not know the board's reasoning in not settling the salary dispute (I believe the board feels we parents are not able to understand the complex issues) I can only say that if there is money in the budget to cover the salary increases, what is the problem?

With the cost of living being such as it is, and considering the out-of-class time the teachers put in every day along with their efforts, in order to maintain the high quality of education we have in this district we are going to have to pay. Our system is, in my estimation, one of the finest in the area, and I have always been happy that my children have the benefit of this type of educational facilities. You only get what you pay for, though. Most teachers have been underpaid, but let's not include our district. As shown in the recent strikes in other areas, a strike only forces the issue and then all reasonable communication gives way to frantic negotiations and unrealistic demands and no one gains.

With one child in the special education class, there are not enough words of praise for the type of learning he is receiving, especially for the genuine feelings expressed by all those who are working with him every day. These are not just teachers, but people who really care in making the children achieve their highest goals, not later in life. That's more than can be expected from a teacher. These people are putting their whole lives into the lives of these children, with their only reward being the children's accomplishments. Not many parents even tell them thanks.

Yet a strike will only hurt the children more than anything else.

Sure, we Moms will have to stay home or find babysitters, and we could grumble for the schools being closed; it gets our little darlings out of our hair for six hours of the day. But what about the kids? They have just started into the school year and are just beginning t learn new things; reading, writing, printing, colors, geography, etc. They have just gotten into their routines and a couple of weeks off will just wash down the drain the past few weeks of the new school year.

Unfortunately, the students having trouble, or slow to learn, or just catching on to something new will be the ones dropped back to the beginning again. It's not fair to them.

I hope Dr. Feldman will put things in the proper perspective. As he explained in his letter, a third party for negotiations is not possible, so get out there and negotiate like crazy, Doc! If this is settled, you can go back to your practice without being bothered by us nervous parents, and we can stop worrying, and the kids can go to school, and the teachers can collect the salaries they just deserve for their efforts, and best of all, this whole mess will have a happy ending, fading into the sunset with smiles on everyone's faces.

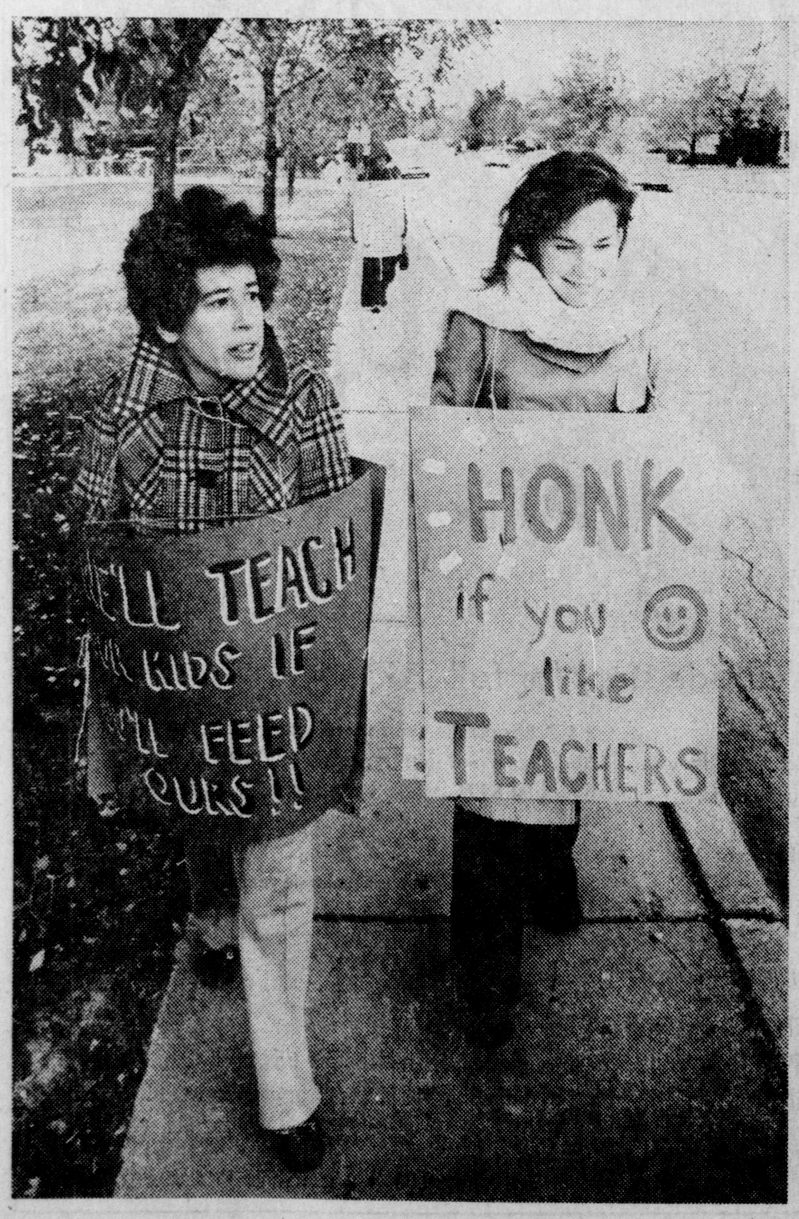
EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was written before the teachers struck Dist. 54 on Friday Oct. 17.



...SEA head calls strike by teachers reluctant 'last choice' in School Dist. 54

As president of SEA, I want to make it very clear that no teacher has any desire whatsoever to strike. If there had been such a desire, it would have happened much earlier than seven weeks after school began and 10 months after negotiations started. But I also firmly believe that virtually all citizens, if they really understood the issues and knew what has actually taken place, would come to the conclusion, however reluctantly, that the teachers really had no choice. The only alternative was to cave in to the unlawful and irresponsible behavior of a few board members who appear to have actually wanted this strike in order to manipulate public opinion against the Schaumburg Education Association.

We sincerely hope that all citizens, especially those who have been so quick to criticize the teachers without knowing what has really occurred, would seriously consider the following observations:

• What we are asking for is fair. It is not, as reported, a 12.9 per cent increase. Rather, we are asking for a 9.1 per cent across the board increase to make up for the cost-of-living increase of 8 per cent last year and to partially cover the 6 per cent loss we suffered the year before. The board has offered only a 5.7 per cent cost-of-living adjustment (not the 9.4 per cent which it misleadingly reports), which would mean that we would experience a real loss for the second year in a row, despite the board's solemn promise in 1973 to make full adjustments for the cost-of-living for the duration of a multi-year contract. What the board is doing is an outright breach of that promise.

• The district has ample surplus with which to grant a full cost-of-living adjustment. This is not, and this should be absolutely clear, this is not a case of the teachers demanding money which the board does not have. The "fiscal responsibility" claimed by the board is, as the board majority well knows, a smokescreen designed to cloud the issues.

• We have been willing at all times to let a neutral third party judge whether our requests are fair. The board has absolutely refused this sensible solution. The reason why the board has refused, regardless of other reasons stated, all of which can be easily refuted, is that it knows that it has not been bargaining in good faith and that a neutral third party might point that out to the public.

• By secret ballot, the teachers rejected by a 94 per cent vote a board offer of 5.5 per cent cost-of-living adjustment. In that same secret ballot, 75 per cent authorized the SEA Board of Representatives to call a strike. If the board's offer were even close to being fair, we would not have received such overwhelming majorities from a group of teachers who sincerely care about teaching children and have never gone on strike before.

All of us are genuinely sorry that it had to come to this, but we finally had to conclude that this strike was the last resort to expose to the public the frustration of the teachers over the last 10 months. To not have made use of this last resort and thereby permit the board's unfair stance to continue would have been far worse in the long run.

Fulle indictment political: lawyer lived for 15 years, but won zoning for apartments in only seven cases, Jacobs said.

"This (Maine Township) is where Mr. Origer came to rape the land with his buildings," Jacobs said.

Fulle, a county board member since 1964, deferred Origer's zoning proposals before the county board "because his neighbors objected to the rezoning," not to force extortion payoffs, Jacobs said.

FULLE IS charged with extorting $10,000 to influence county zoning of 96 acres in Northfield Township in 1970.

Jacobs charged that Origer lied about the payoff because the Internal Revenue Service is seeking payment of more than $250,000 in back taxes from his construction firm.

"For every dollar he places in someone else's pocket, he saves $2.50," Jacobs said.

"That is not true!" Assistant U.S. Atty. Anton Valukas said.

Fulle, 66 Laurel, Des Plaines, instigated the federal investigation of county zoning, Jacobs said, and Fulle voluntarily testified for six hours before a federal grand jury last year.

Four witnesses for the government testified Tuesday. The witnesses, including county board Secretary Michael Igoe, identified county zoning documents and checks which allegedly were part of more than $69,000 extorted by Fulle from Origer and other builders.

Anti-sexism guideline puzzle school officials

by WANDALYN RICE

All-boy shop classes and all-girl cooking classes nearly have disappeared from local schools, but officials are not entirely sure what more is required by federal guidelines for eliminating sex discrimination.

Under rules adopted last July by the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), local schools had until this week to draw up plans for eliminating sex discrimination and to develop grievance procedures for persons claiming discrimination.

However, local school officials said Tuesday copies of the rules and instructions on how school districts should comply became available only within the last few weeks.

THE RULES SAY all curricula, except physical education classes involving contact sports and sex education classes, must be open to students of both sexes. In addition, competitive athletic programs are required to be "comparable" for men and women, but equal expenditures are not required.

Elementary schools have until next year to comply with the rules, while high schools and colleges have until 1978.

Local officials in several districts said opening single sex classes to both boys and girls in many ways has been the easiest part of complying with the new guidelines. The hardest part, they said, has been deciding where to go from there.

"We have our program all arranged so it is in conformance with the rules," Supt. Kenneth Gill of Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Dist. 21 said. "We have not yet developed a formal affirmative action plan because if we had one I wouldn't know where the hell to send it."

SEVERAL DISTRICTS have appointed coordinators to direct efforts to comply with the new rules, and have started writing grievance procedures to be used by students who claim they have faced discrimination.

"We hope to have the grievance procedure done soon, although realistically it probably will be a couple of months," William Warner, assistant to the superintendent of High School Dist. 214, said. "Grievance procedures aren't totally foreign to us, because we have them for special education and other things."

Warner said Dist. 214 also has taken steps to convert the "Bachelor Survival" home economics class aimed at boys to a "Singles Survival" class suitable for both boys and girls and to integrate physical education classes.

"Physical education will be much more integrated next year. We couldn't do it this year because of how far in advance we schedule classes," he said.

Some districts have not yet begun work on grievance procedures, but said they are planning to start soon. Supt. Donald Strong of Arlington Heights Dist. 25 said officials in that district received copies of the rules just a few weeks ago.

"WE ARE IN THE midst of reading the regulations and finding out what they mean," he said. "We know we'll need a grievance process, and we're trying to move in good faith on that."

Dist. 21 and Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 both have gone beyond the federal requirements. The districts have drafted guidelines for eliminating sex discrimination in textbooks and teaching materials, an area ignored by HEW.

Ways to stretch your entertainment dollars

by KAY MARSH

Selective televiewing is one of the best ways to stretch your entertainment dollar. And at least three programs of special interest to women will be coming up this week.

Reserve your set for two programs Thursday: "Babe," showing the life of sports immortal Babe Didrikson Zaharias, and "First Ladies' Diaries: Martha Washington," the second in a series on Presidents' wives. Then tune in the next night (Oct. 24) for "Sounder." This film of a Southern black family during the Depression is billed as "Emmy-winning Cecily Tyson's portrayal of the struggles and spiritual triumph of a black woman."

Check your TV listings for times and stations, as well as any last-minute changes.

PLANT PARENTHOOD also provides a wealth of pleasure at a relatively modest cost. Maybe that's why the indoor plant market today is said to account for $2 billion at the retail level, and it's still growing strong.

New on the newsstands is a quarterly magazine entitled Popular Gardening Indoors, started recently by a division of CBS. Priced at $1.25 an issue, it's devoted exclusively to indoor gardening, and is designed to appeal primarily to apartment dwellers.

SHORT TRIPS stretch your travel budget. And one of this area's most appealing smalltown celebrations comes up soon in Sycamore, Ill., "the decorated pumpkin capital of the world." The 14th annual Pumpkin Festival runs Oct. 24-31, but most of the big events take place the weekend of the 25th and culminate in a Giant Pumpkin Parade at 2 p.m. on Sunday the 26th.

There are various special events: a spook house, farmers market, flea market, pumpkin decorating clinic, et cetera. But the big attraction is the decorated pumpkins. If the weather's nice, you might like to drive the approximately 60 miles to see them displayed on Sycamore's courthouse lawn, Oct. 23-29.

This year's festival even has a bicentennial category — and where else can you ever expect to see a red, white and blue pumpkin?

HIP, HIP, HIPPO! I haven't seen any in the Chicago area as yet, but American Bakeries opened a prototype Hippopotamus supermarket in Memphis this last spring. The idea: sell items only in the giant sizes normally purchased by institutions or restaurants, and help customers save an estimated 10 to 30 per cent on grocery shopping.

Actually, even small families can use six-pound cans of at least a few fruits and vegetables. And many apartment-dwelling singles and doubles with limited storage space find institutional products a thrifty buy for large-scale entertaining.

Most supermarkets, by the way, carry at least some food items in institutional sizes. And, even if they don't, you can often negotiate a discount on the smaller sizes if you buy by the case.

SPEAKING OF entertaining, more and more wines are now available in money-saving larger sizes. But if you really want to impress your friends, the latest and one of the fastest-growing status symbols is imported beer. Yes, it costs more than domestic brands, but considerably less than many other potables.

The Wall Street Journal reports that more than 80 different brands from at least two dozen countries are now selling in the U.S. More than 16.6 million cases of packaged beer (cans or bottles) were imported last year, and, so far this year, imports of packaged beer are flowing some 24 per cent ahead of 1974's.

NUTRITION INFORMATION. As a postscript to last week's column on nutrition labeling, most food manufacturers are happy to supply more consumer information if you want it. General Foods, for instance, puts out a booklet called "Nutrition information can work for you" which includes nutrient values charts of all General Foods products on which nutrition labeling appears.

Of more general use is the Del Monte Nutrition Guide, an attractive wall chart that gives you nutritional data on many commonly eaten foods. Included, too, are basic facts on nutrition and how to evaluate your own diet. The Guide is free from the Consumer Services Department of Del Monte Corp., P.O. Box 3575, San Francisco, Calif. 94119.

FIERCE, FUNNY OR FLIPPANT — all the pumpkins designed by Marianne Nadherny are fantastic. The pumpkins are being awarded daily through Oct. 30 to shoppers at the Big Attic's "Spookebration Sale." Sponsored by the Service League for a United Suburban Hospital, the Big Attic is located at N8 Roselle Rd., Schaumburg. Sale hours are 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, with sale items at one half price during the "Spookebration Sale."

Despook Halloween say child experts

Sandra and John Gadell want to despook Halloween.

They don't want to get rid of costumes altogether, just make them less frightening. The Gadells, of St. Louis, are a married couple with doctorate degrees in education and child development. They want to take the fear out of youngsters who don't realize that daddy with a sheet over his head still is daddy and not a ghost.

They also think the local spook house, which nearly every neighborhood has at Halloween, often has a lasting psychological effect on young minds that hangs on long after the children's tummyache from too much Halloween candy is gone.

In an interview with United Press International the Gadells said children's thinking, until they are seven or eight years old, is limited by what their senses tell them.

THAT IS why a wise kindergarten teacher wears the same outfit each day for the first week of school, so her new students will realize that she is the same person every day. A mother who dons a wig, even if she does so in front of her preschooler, can frighten a small child, because the child doesn't know who this strange looking new person really is.

"Seeing is believing for young children," Gadell said. "That's the point."

He and his wife have taught child development and early education in several areas of the United States. They now have a center in the St. Louis area, where they conduct workshops that put adults in nursery school settings to help grownups see the world as children do.

"IT'S INTERESTING because children spend their whole life trying to be adults," Mrs. Gadell said. "It's only fair to try and get adults to act like children."

The Gadells often ask the adults to tell a story about something important from their childhood — not necessarily good or bad, merely a significant incident. They were surprised when 30 per cent told of a frightening experience on Halloween. When they looked into it in terms of child development research, they found that children younger than eight are perception-bound.

"Their activities are determined by what they see or feel or taste at the moment," Gadell said. "When our 4-year-old daughter Annie sees a man dressed as a ghost, he's a ghost. Her perceptions overcome any power she has to reason."

IT'S BAD enough when the child sees daddy in a ghost costume or an older sister masquerading as a witch, the Gadells said. A neighborhood house of horrors can give young children the shakes for years.

"Adults think kids like to be scared like that," Mrs. Gadell said, "but no one has asked the kids if they want to go in and get the wits scared out of them."

The Gadells don't believe children can be protected from everything scary. Bogey-man fears and nightmares they have are very real and should be dealt with sympathetically.

By the time a child reaches the second or third grade, attitudes are not shaped merely by perceptions, they said.

"At age 8, most children are able to hold in abeyance what they see," Gadell said. "They can escape their own perceptions of the moment and say to themselves, 'It looks like a ghost, but it really isn't.' "

"THE CRITICAL thing, we think, is the face," Mrs. Gadell said. "If you can dress in a costume but leave the facial characteristics the same, that's good.

"Kids love to dress up in furs and beads and sparkly things," she added. "It's adults who think the identity should be totally concealed and the child dressed up like a mummy. The kids don't need that to be happy."

For Halloween, the Gadells suggest gentle characters such as those from Disney or the Flintstones as ones that young children can enjoy without being frightened. Use a minimum of makeup or facial masks, they added; let children see who the trick-or-treaters really are, to make Halloween a pleasant experience instead of one that is remembered with horror years later.

WHAT YOUNG children see is what they believe, say St. Louis child experts Sandra and John Gadell. Masks like this frighten the little ones and may spoil Halloween for them, they believe. Their advice: wear the costumes but keep your own face.

Adopted son can inherit

by JULIE MARTOCCIO

Dear Attorney Martoccio,

My second husband adopted my son by a previous marriage, after my son's real father passed away. My second husband, who was a wonderful dad to my son, died suddenly of a heart attack, and since we owned very little and in joint tenancy, I received everything.

But now I have a problem about my son. My second husband's family owned a large piece of property that didn't seem like much a few years ago but has skyrocketed in value since a new shopping center was put up near there.

My second husband left no will and now I'm told that my son will receive more than I, even though I really need some help because I am ill and unable to support myself. My son turned out to be a real disappointment. He married a girl who is just as lazy and irresponsible as he is. I know it would not have been his stepfather's wish that my son receive anything while I needed it and frankly, if I thought the grandchildren would receive it all, I wouldn't feel too bad about it.

MY SON doesn't know about his inheritance which he will get soon since the property is in the process of being sold. But when he does, he and his wife will go through it like a hurricane just as they've done with everything else.

What is my son legally entitled to? Is there any way I can insist that the money be put in trust or some other arrangement for the grandchildren? — R.G.

Dear R.G.

Every time I receive a letter like yours, I feel like shouting from the housetops: "Please, no matter how healthy you are, or how small your estate, have a will, especially when you have children." A will tells the world whom you wish to have your property go to after you are gone. Since death is an uncertain factor, now is the time to do it. If you do not, then you must be content to let the law decide for you. It will then step in and distribute what you have in the way it believes it should be done.

ONE OF THE things the law believes, whether true or not (and certainly it is not true in your particular case), is that a child needs whatever is left more than the parent (Illinois).

I don't think we can fault "the law" on this either since it tries to avoid making public charges of those who are left behind, particularly children, and in addition it gives us the right to tell the world in writing exactly what we'd like to have done with our property.

• In Illinois, then, without a will by your second husband, your son would be entitled to two-thirds of your second husband's estate, and you would receive one-third. An adopted child is considered a "descendant" of the adoptive parents and therefore is treated the same as a "natural" child here in Illinois.

Another important point to remember is that he will inherit from you, too, if you do not provide otherwise in a will. You may not feel that one is necessary since you do not have many worldly possessions now, but with what you receive from your husband's estate plus your own personal property, automobile, clothing, jewelry, etc., it might add up to quite a bit. In any event, you should state to whom you wish to leave whatever you own in a will. (This could be your grandchildren.)

• Although states vary on the following law, it is advisable for everyone to know what prevails in Illinois. Illinois has repudiated what was called the "stranger to the adoption" rule which provided that while an adopted child might inherit from his adoptive parent, he could not inherit from lineal and collateral kindred of the adoptive parent. The reasoning here seems to be that since those relatives had not necessarily consented to or even known about the adoption, they could not be bound by it.

• Not only does the law say that an adopted child may inherit from lineal or collateral kindred of adopting parents; it also says that all written instruments (executed after 1955) will be interpreted to mean that a person wishes the adopted child to be considered as a natural child unless that person clearly, in writing, says otherwise.

Teenagers March to help kids live

Gamma Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha is in full swing preparing for its fifth annual Teenagers March (TAM) to be conducted next week, Oct. 27 - Nov. 2.

The teenage volunteers will be wearing Danny Thomas badges in recognition of the movie and television star who founded St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., in 1962. All proceeds from the march will go to St. Jude's and its affiliate in Peoria, Ill.

THE HOSPITAL treats and does clinical research in childhood cancer, muscle disorders and other catastrophic childhood diseases. Patients are admitted upon referral of their family doctors; all treatment is free.

The teens will be going door-to-door and into shopping centers soliciting contributions for St. Jude's. Communities to be covered are Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Palatine, Schaumburg, Hanover Park and Streamwood.

Coordinating the drive is Mrs. Dorothy B. Latko of Hoffman Estates who is northwest executive director and a member of Gamma Theta Chapter of ESA. Adults able to volunteer their services helping with details of the march may contact her at 885-4339.

For the drive, Gamma Theta is being assisted by members of sister chapter Beta Nu of Hoffman Estates and a Beta Sigma Phi Chapter, Mu Pi, also of Hoffman.

THE WIND-UP of the week for the teens on the march will be a St. Jude Mixer at Hoffman Estates High School from 2:30 to 6 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 2. It is sponsored by Woodfield Area Council of ESA.

Bob Dearborn, honorary TAM Chicago residential chairman and a disc jockey for WCFL radio, will appear, as will Al Miles, a former movie stuntman who has a fast-draw gunslinger act.

Special prizes will be given to top teen collectors.

How about zucchini cake?

The home line

by Dorothy Ritz

Zucchini cake, anyone? It's a wonderful time to try your hand at it while this delectable vegetable is still plentiful (and hence cheaper). My friend Nora Towey just brought over a sample of zucchini cake, and I can testify that it's a real culinary triumph.

Beat three eggs until lemon-colored. Then beat in one cup of salad oil and two cups of sugar. Add two cups of grated raw zucchini (unpeeled), two teaspoons of cinnamon, one-eighth teaspoon of nutmeg, one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of baking soda and one-half teaspoon of baking powder. Mix well, then gradually add three cups of flour and one cup of chopped walnuts and put into a greased three-quart bundt pan. Bake for one hour at 350 degrees. Cool in the pan for 10 minutes, then loosen the edges and turn out on a rack to cool. Store in either a covered pan or wrap in foil.

Nora suggested that the slices be spread with either softened butter or softened cream cheese. Four stars.

Dear Dorothy: Is there a simple solution I can keep on hand to treat those inevitable stains that get on carpeting? With children running in and out it's impossible to do a regular cleaning job several times a day. — Mrs. Martha Minnigerode

Dissolve one-fourth cup of detergent and one-fourth cup of white vinegar in a quart of water. Keep a container of this on your kitchen counter, ready all the time. A quick swipe of a sponge dampened in this will do a pretty good job.

Dear Dorothy: In the lamb section of the supermarket were "Saratoga chops." The woman attendant didn't know what they were. Do you know? — Mrs. Harold Newsome

These are boneless chops made from the inside shoulder muscle.

Schaumburg Jaycee-ettes will hold their monthly meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. at Bonanza Steak House, Schaumburg. Immediately following the business session a program will feature a ceramic demonstration by Karen Brinke of Schaumburg. She will explain the various steps of making ceramics from clay to the finished product. Ceramic pieces will be on sale and orders will be taken for future delivery.

BETA SIGMA PHI

Xi Zeta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi meets tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. Albert P. Atkins in Rolling Meadows. Mrs. R. Lary Miller will give a program on "Of House and Home."

Mrs. Thomas Alten received her welcome ritual at the group's last meeting. Sandy Rist of Arlington Heights was chosen the chapter's Valentine Queen.

Members, husbands and friends are invited to an Octoberfest at the home of Mrs. Richard Schenak, Palatine, Saturday evening.

XI ETA RHO Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will meet at Jill Legg's in Arlington Heights at 8 p.m. Thursday, Diane Luebbers will present a program entitled "This Is My Country."

The chapter's service project for the year is helping the Cancer Society address envelops. On Nov. 8, the group will have a booth at a bazaar at Rolling Meadows Plaza. There will be homemade ornaments, flowers, egg baskts, fresh bread and a game for children.

MRS. GREG WEIDA of Rolling Meadows will receive the pledge ritual tonight at the 8 o'clock meeting of Lambda Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Members will meet in the Buffalo Grove home of Mrs. Ron Cullum, and Mrs. Tom Popejoy, also of Buffalo Grove, will present a program on "This Is My Country."

DePaul alumnae benefit

Several area women are involved with plans for the DePaul University Alumni Association annual fashion show and luncheon, slated Nov. 1 in the Gold Coast Room of the Drake Hotel, Chicago. Charles A. Stevens & Co. will present the fashions.

Committee members include Mrs. Carol Barnowski, Mrs. Lynn Harte and Mrs. Mary Ellen Kauss, all of Hoffman Estates, and Mrs. Regina Gorski of Palatine.

Tickets are $10 and can be reserved at 321-7645.

Pair met as co-workers

While working at the former Pie House in Wheeling, a local couple, Debra Ann Shaughnessy and Robert Michael Acks, met. Their romance led to marriage on Sept. 20 at 3 p.m. in St. Joseph the Worker Church, Wheeling.

Debra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Shaughnessy, Wheeling, wore a gown of white taffeta and sheer trimmed in lace. A lace-covered Camelot headpiece held her chapel-length mantilla veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Pat Shaughnessy was maid of honor for her sister's wedding. Lori Machnik, the groom's sister, and Peggy Gautraud, both of Wheeling, were bridesmaids.

THEY WORE LILAC gowns with short jackets to match and butterfly veils set off by lilac chiffon bows. Purple Elegance carnations, purple pompons and baby's breath made up their bouquets.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Acks of Wheeling, was attended by Mike Elzer, Mundelein, as best man and Tim Reuss, Wheeling, and Drew Harwell, Paddock Lake, Wis., as groomsmen.

A reception for 130 guests followed at the Hobson House in Long Grove.

Debra and Robert are both '74 graduates of Wheeling High School. He is now in the U.S.. Air Force at Holloman AFB, N.M., and has taken his bride to live nearby in Alamogordo.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Acks

Next on the agenda

ARLINGTON HOMEMAKERS

"Health Quackery" is the topic for Thursday's 1 p.m. meeting of Arlington Heights Homemakers. Mrs. Fern Anderson and Mrs. Avis Patterson will give the lesson at the Arlington Heights Museum Lecture Hall.

The homemakers' next craft day is Tuesday, Nov. 4, at 10:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Anderson.

WHEELING-BUFFALO GROVE NEWCOMERS

Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Newcomers Club is having a plant party, arranged by The Galloping Greenhouse, Thursday at 8 p.m. at Pioneer Savings & Loan, Dundee Road, Wheeling. Members and guests will be able to buy and order plants. Information 541-6599.

HADASSAH

Dr. Yoram Diamant, a gynecologist at the Hadassah Hospital at Ein Karem, Jerusalem, will discuss the past, present and future of the Hadassah University hospitals at Ein Karem and Mount Scopus at a meeting Thursday for Henrietta Szold Group of Hadassah. This is a Mount Scopus Month open meeting at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Bonnie Cutler, Buffalo Grove.

The hospital on Mount Scopus was cut off from use by Israel during the 1948 War of Independence. The facility was returned to Hadassah in 1967 when the city was reunited during the Six Day War and is being renovated and re-opened this month.

Information 398-1689.

YOUNG SINGLE PARENTS

"Men's Fashions" will be in the spotlight at Thursday's meeting of Northwest Chapter, Young Single Parents. A representative from Hirsch Clothing will discuss styles, fabrics and clues in choosing good quality. Dancing and a social hour follow.

YSP meets at 9 p.m. at Lancer Steak House, Schaumburg, and is open to all young parents between the ages of 21 and 40 who are divorced, separated or widowed. Information 629-5777.

SCHAUMBURG JAYCEE-ETTES

Schaumburg Jaycee-ettes will hold their monthly meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. at Bonanza Steak House, Schaumburg. Immediately following the business session a program will feature a ceramic demonstration by Karen Brinke of Schaumburg. She will explain the various steps of making ceramics from clay to the finished product. Ceramic pieces will be on sale and orders will be taken for future delivery.

BETA SIGMA PHI

Xi Zeta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi meets tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. Albert P. Atkins in Rolling Meadows. Mrs. R. Lary Miller will give a program on "Of House and Home."

Mrs. Thomas Alten received her welcome ritual at the group's last meeting. Sandy Rist of Arlington Heights was chosen the chapter's Valentine Queen.

Members, husbands and friends are invited to an Octoberfest at the home of Mrs. Richard Schenak, Palatine, Saturday evening.

XI ETA RHO Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will meet at Jill Legg's in Arlington Heights at 8 p.m. Thursday, Diane Luebbers will present a program entitled "This Is My Country."

The chapter's service project for the year is helping the Cancer Society address envelops. On Nov. 8, the group will have a booth at a bazaar at Rolling Meadows Plaza. There will be homemade ornaments, flowers, egg baskts, fresh bread and a game for children.

MRS. GREG WEIDA of Rolling Meadows will receive the pledge ritual tonight at the 8 o'clock meeting of Lambda Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Members will meet in the Buffalo Grove home of Mrs. Ron Cullum, and Mrs. Tom Popejoy, also of Buffalo Grove, will present a program on "This Is My Country."

DePaul alumnae benefit

Several area women are involved with plans for the DePaul University Alumni Association annual fashion show and luncheon, slated Nov. 1 in the Gold Coast Room of the Drake Hotel, Chicago. Charles A. Stevens & Co. will present the fashions.

Committee members include Mrs. Carol Barnowski, Mrs. Lynn Harte and Mrs. Mary Ellen Kauss, all of Hoffman Estates, and Mrs. Regina Gorski of Palatine.

Tickets are $10 and can be reserved at 321-7645.

Pair met as co-workers

While working at the former Pie House in Wheeling, a local couple, Debra Ann Shaughnessy and Robert Michael Acks, met. Their romance led to marriage on Sept. 20 at 3 p.m. in St. Joseph the Worker Church, Wheeling.

Debra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Shaughnessy, Wheeling, wore a gown of white taffeta and sheer trimmed in lace. A lace-covered Camelot headpiece held her chapel-length mantilla veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Pat Shaughnessy was maid of honor for her sister's wedding. Lori Machnik, the groom's sister, and Peggy Gautraud, both of Wheeling, were bridesmaids.

THEY WORE LILAC gowns with short jackets to match and butterfly veils set off by lilac chiffon bows. Purple Elegance carnations, purple pompons and baby's breath made up their bouquets.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Acks of Wheeling, was attended by Mike Elzer, Mundelein, as best man and Tim Reuss, Wheeling, and Drew Harwell, Paddock Lake, Wis., as groomsmen.

A reception for 130 guests followed at the Hobson House in Long Grove.

Debra and Robert are both '74 graduates of Wheeling High School. He is now in the U.S.. Air Force at Holloman AFB, N.M., and has taken his bride to live nearby in Alamogordo.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Acks

Trick or Toy bags go on sale Friday

Trick or Toy Bags will be sold by Elk Grove Junior Woman's Club from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday at Grove Shopping Center and Park 'n Shop and from noon to 1:30 p.m. at Marty & Joe's, Devon and Tonne. The bags contain 40 toys that can be handed out on Hallloween night to Trick or Treaters.

Each bag sells for $1.50. Proceeds of the sale will go to the Brain Research Center at the University of Chicago.

Happenings

October Overture

Fall fashions dressed up with fun and luxury furs, strolling violin music, cocktails and a charcoal broiled butt steak luncheon spell "October Overture" for St. Mary's Woman's Club of Buffalo Grove. The luncheon show will be held Saturday at Lancer's Restaurant, Schaumburg, beginning at 11:30 a.m. Baskin's of Randhurst and John Pavlis Furs, Arlington Heights, will furnish the fashions.

The $7 tickets are available from Kathy Seibert, 537-8142.

Masquerade dance

St. Joseph the Worker Parish is sponsoring its first annual masquerade dance from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 Saturday in the parish hall, 181 W. Dundee Rd., Wheeling.

Music will be provided by The Fantasies and prizes will be awarded to the three best costumes. There will also be food and a cash bar. Donation is $5 a couple.

Tennis party

A mixed doubles tennis party is planned for Saturday evening by Aura Chapter, B'nai B'rith Women. Play will be continuous from 9 to 11 p.m., followed by pizza and Coke, at Northbrook 2. Cost is $20 per couple. Information 398-0434.

Singles swing

New Perspective, a group for single professionals and executives 23 to 45 years of age, will hold a musical-mixer-mingler Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Circus in Niles. Guests are welcome at $2 pre-paid or $3 at the door. Part of the proceeds goes to the American Cancer Society. Information 299-5566.

Lieutenant governor candidate to speak

David O'Neil, St. Clair County sheriff and candidate for lieutenant governor, will speak Thursday to the Palatine Township Republic Club.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in Palatine Township Hall, 37 N. Plum Grove Rd.

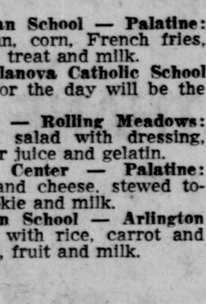
O'Neil and Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee Joan Anderson are the two announced candidates for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

Court clerk to tell role of his office

Morgan M. Finley, clerk of the Circuit Court, will speak at a luncheon Tuesday to inform area officials, police chiefs and state's attorneys on the role of the clerk's office and court-related issues.

Officials from communities in the Third Municipal District, including Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Schaumburg, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines, have been invited to the luncheon at the Black Knight Restaurant, 152 W. Higgins Rd., Hoffman Estates.

Summer TV



by Ed Landwehr

The TV networks better start doing something about those poor summer programs and re-runs. They claim that no one looks at TV in the summertime, and the sponsors back off from summer advertising.

Where do they think everyone goes? Vacations are limited, and chances are even the vacationers are watching TV in their motels. Golly, even the campers carry TV with them. And people don't stay outside anymore with their air conditioned houses.

The first thing you'll know, libraries will get noticed and books will be discovered. There'll go winter TV.

Fisk's 12th-inning homer deadlocks 'Super Series'

World Series

BOSTON (UPI) — Bernie Carbo equalled a World Series record when he connected for his second pinch-hit homer with two in the eighth inning Tuesday night to pull the Boston Red Sox into a 6-6 tie with the Cincinnati Reds

Carlton Fisk broke a 6-6 deadlock in the sixth game of the Series with a 12-inning homer over the "Green Monster" short left field wall, forcing a seventh game.

Carbo's wallop travelled deep into the center field bleachers and came at the expense of reliever Rawly Eastwick with two out and two on.

With the Red Sox trailing 6-3, rookie Fred Lynn led off the bottom of the eighth with a single to right and moved up on Rico Petrocelli's walk. Eastwick relieved Pedro Borbon at that point and struck out Dwight Evans. After Rick Burleson flied out, Carbo picked on a 2-2 pitch for his second pinch-hit omer of the series.

Carbo, who hit his first pinch-hit homer in the third game of the series in Cincinnati, tied a record previously set by Chuck Essegian of the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1959 World Series against the Chicago White Sox.

George Foster's two-out double off the center field wall in the seventh inning drove in two runs and Cesar Geronimo followed with a solo homer in the eighth to give the Cincinnati Reds a 6-3 lead over the Boston Red Sox.

Luis Tiant was the victim of both hits. Foster's blow came with Ken Griffey on third base and Joe Morgan on first. Tiant was lfted following the homer by Geronimo.

Griffey had led off the seventh inning with his second hit of the contest, a single to right, and moved to second on Morgan's single to left. After Johnny Bench flied out, Griffey advanced to third on Tony Perez' fly to right, after which Foster came through with his two-run blow.

The Cincinnati Reds rallied for three runs in the fifth inning off Tiant to tie the sixth game of the World Series 3-3.

The Reds, stymied by Tiant in both the first and fourth games of the series, finally caught up to the veteran right-hander in the fifth when pinch hitter Ed Armbrister drew a base on balls, Rose singled to center and Griffey betled a triple off the wall in left-center for two runs.

Lynn made a valiant effort on Griffey's base-clearing hit, slamming up against the wall and then slumping to the ground in obvious distress. After some medical attention, the center fielder stayed in the game, but Bench tied the score with a single off the wall in left to bring in Griffey.

Super rookie Lynn, disappointed with his hitting in the first five games of the World Series, cracked a three-run homer in the first inning to give the Boston Red Sox a 3-0 lead over the CINCINNATI Reds after three innings of the sixth game.

The Rds, who led the best-of-seven series three games to two, were held to one hit over the first three innings by right-hander Tiant, seeking to become the 13th pitcher to win three games in one Series.

jlynn a Series standout defensively in center field but who had managed only five hits in 19 at-bats, staked Tiant to a 3-0 lead when he hit a 400-foot homer off Gary Nolan into the right-center field bleachers after two-out singles by Carl Yastrzemski and Carlton Fisk in the first. It was Lynn's first homer since Sept. 14 and the first bs a rookie in World Series play since 1967 when Reggie Smith hit a pair for the Red Sox against the Cardinals.

The Red Sox missed another scoring opportunity in the third when they loaded the bases after two were out. Reliever Jack Billingham struck out Rico Petrocelli to end the threat.

The only hit the Reds managed off Tiant in the first three innings was a two-out single by Pete Rose in te third.

After three days of rain postponements, Tuesday night's game began under clear skies with temperatures in the 60's. Extra security forces also were present to protect umpire Larry Barnett, who had received a threatening letter.

Fremd runners win; it's not even close

by ART MUGALIAN
Cross country editor

With plenty of room to spare, the Fremd Vikings wrapped up their school's fourth consecutive Mid-Suburban League cross country title by running away with the conference meet Tuesday afternoon at Conant's Union Oil course.

Led by junior John Filosa, who was the individual winner in 15:17 over the three-mile maze, Fremd got superb performances from its top five harriers and coasted home with just 55 points.

Palatine was second with 79, followed by Hoffman Estates (82) and Prospect (121).

Tuesday's victory, combined with the Vikings' North Division dual-meet title, gives coach Ron Menely's boys the outright league championship. The last time Menely's team failed to win the MSL over-all title was 1971.

Palatine captured second place over-all, followed by Hoffman and Prospect in a tie for third. Arlington, with a fifth-place finish in the conference meet, took fifth in the final league standings.

But it was all Fremd on Tuesday at Union Oil on a perfect day for running. Nobody had quite ruled the Vikings out, but most everyone was awed by the margin of their victory.

"I didn't think their fourth and fifth men were that strong," said Prospect coach Joe Wanner, whose team had to settle for the South-division trophy.

Fremd's Dan Inbody and Bob Ratcliffe, both sophomores, were 17th and 19th respectively, and both had to wade through the pack to do it. They beat Palatine's fourth and fifth runners by a total of 26 points and that was the difference in the race.

Filosa, the favorite, fought off the challenge of sophomore Chuck Elliott of Palatine for most of three miles. In the end, Elliott faded to third and Prospect's Bill Hrbek snuck into second, just a count behind Filosa.

Fremd's second runner, junior Dan Tischler,and the Vikes' third man, Dean Elleman, were right where they were supposed to be, too.

"Elleman got out fast and ran a good race," said Menely later. "Tischler, though, cramped up back there. When he came around he told me, 'coach, I've got a cramp.' I told him, 'Dan, you've gotta do it, you've got just two races left. He was back in about 12th place when he got the cramp, but he bent over a couple times and worked it out."

Tischler was fifth over-all, just behind Palatine junior Tony Vargas, who turned in his finest performance of the year. Elleman was 13th, three spots behind Palatine's third man, senior Dave Horwath.

"The kids ran as a team today," Menely said. "They got together today, they had a team meeting. I wasn't even there. They decided that they could do it — they felt that they could win. I'm awfully proud of them."

Palatine coach Joe Johnson, whose harriers will get one final crack at Fremd in Saturday's Lake Forest Sectional, wouldn't fault his boys.

"They got the most of their abilities," he said. "They ran a good race, they went out and made Fremd come after them. They didn't beat themselves."

Pirate sophomore Jon Dahlgren was 27th and senior Pete Kearns, who was up near the front for a good part of the race, finished 35th.

Hoffman, in third place, got strong efforts from Sam Cox (6th) and Kevin Rooney (7th). Prospect's Hrbek and junior Jack Pittman (8th) ran well, but their next three men, Matt Lawson (30th), Dave Hayes (40th) and Mark Smith (41st), were too far back to help.

Arlington got a strong finish from Mike Fischer, who was 15th, as the young Cardinals took a fifth place. Forest View was sixth.

Fremd's strength showed on all four levels, including the girls race, which they won with just 31 points as Sharon Ratcliffe (2nd), Linda Skinner (3rd), Lori Lagerhausen (7th), Lois Johnson (8th), and Jan Fletcher (11th) placed in the top 14.

The individual girls' champ was Wheeling's Gail Miloch, who turned in a time of 12:39. Teammate Bonnie Buenzow was fourth.

Fremd won the sophomore title, too, as Viking freshman Tom Ross was the individual winner.

Paddock Trophy to honor top girls program

by PAUL LOGAN
Associate Sports Editor

Paddock Publications came up with an idea eight years ago:

Why not follow the West Suburban Conference's example and present a large, traveling award for over-all sports excellence in the Mid-Suburban League?

That's how the Paddock Cup came into being. But the award only covered varsity sports for boys.

Since the Mid-Suburban also has an ever-growing commitment to girl athletes, another award was necessary.

Starting this school year, The Herald will begin presenting a trophy for the top girls' athletic program — the Paddock Trophy.

The award has a slightly different name so it will not be confused with the boys' award. However, the huge (over four feet tall!) trophy is more than equal in size and beauty to the Paddock Cup.

Last Saturday's MSL meets in swimming and archery concluded the fall season for girls. After compiling points for these two sports as well as tennis (which ended the week before), the leader going into the winter season is Arlington.

The race is quite close with Arlington having a 13.33 average, Prospect at 12.33 and Fremd at 11.50. The complete fall season totals as well as points broken down by sports appears elsewhere on this page.

More than half the MSL schools must participate in a sport before it can be included in the over-all point total. Ten sports will be used to determine the 1975-76 winner — archery, tennis, swimming, basketball, bowling, volleyball, badminton, track and field, softball and gymnastics.

Points are awarded according to a school's finish in each sport with 14 for over-all champion, 12 for second, 11 for third best record, et cetera. The total points then are divided by the number of sports each school actually participates in on a varsity level.

Following the winter campaign in volleyball, bowling and basketball, the results will be published in March.

The final over-all results will be announced in June after the spring season of badminton, track and field, gymnastics and softball.

The Paddock Trophy will then be presented to the winning athletic department at the school's awards banquet.

If a school should win the trophy three straight years, it will be retired and a new one will be purchased. It could happen for it has occurred twice with the Paddock Cup.

The Reds, stymied by Tiant in both the first and fourth games of the series, finally caught up to the veteran right-hander in the fifth when pinch hitter Ed Armbrister drew a base on balls, Rose singled to center and Griffey betled a triple off the wall in left-center for two runs.

Lynn made a valiant effort on Griffey's base-clearing hit, slamming up against the wall and then slumping to the ground in obvious distress. After some medical attention, the center fielder stayed in the game, but Bench tied the score with a single off the wall in left to bring in Griffey.

Super rookie Lynn, disappointed with his hitting in the first five games of the World Series, cracked a three-run homer in the first inning to give the Boston Red Sox a 3-0 lead over the CINCINNATI Reds after three innings of the sixth game.

The Rds, who led the best-of-seven series three games to two, were held to one hit over the first three innings by right-hander Tiant, seeking to become the 13th pitcher to win three games in one Series.

jlynn a Series standout defensively in center field but who had managed only five hits in 19 at-bats, staked Tiant to a 3-0 lead when he hit a 400-foot homer off Gary Nolan into the right-center field bleachers after two-out singles by Carl Yastrzemski and Carlton Fisk in the first. It was Lynn's first homer since Sept. 14 and the first bs a rookie in World Series play since 1967 when Reggie Smith hit a pair for the Red Sox against the Cardinals.

The Red Sox missed another scoring opportunity in the third when they loaded the bases after two were out. Reliever Jack Billingham struck out Rico Petrocelli to end the threat.

The only hit the Reds managed off Tiant in the first three innings was a two-out single by Pete Rose in te third.

After three days of rain postponements, Tuesday night's game began under clear skies with temperatures in the 60's. Extra security forces also were present to protect umpire Larry Barnett, who had received a threatening letter.

Fremd runners win; it's not even close

by ART MUGALIAN
Cross country editor

With plenty of room to spare, the Fremd Vikings wrapped up their school's fourth consecutive Mid-Suburban League cross country title by running away with the conference meet Tuesday afternoon at Conant's Union Oil course.

Led by junior John Filosa, who was the individual winner in 15:17 over the three-mile maze, Fremd got superb performances from its top five harriers and coasted home with just 55 points.

Palatine was second with 79, followed by Hoffman Estates (82) and Prospect (121).

Tuesday's victory, combined with the Vikings' North Division dual-meet title, gives coach Ron Menely's boys the outright league championship. The last time Menely's team failed to win the MSL over-all title was 1971.

Palatine captured second place over-all, followed by Hoffman and Prospect in a tie for third. Arlington, with a fifth-place finish in the conference meet, took fifth in the final league standings.

But it was all Fremd on Tuesday at Union Oil on a perfect day for running. Nobody had quite ruled the Vikings out, but most everyone was awed by the margin of their victory.

"I didn't think their fourth and fifth men were that strong," said Prospect coach Joe Wanner, whose team had to settle for the South-division trophy.

Fremd's Dan Inbody and Bob Ratcliffe, both sophomores, were 17th and 19th respectively, and both had to wade through the pack to do it. They beat Palatine's fourth and fifth runners by a total of 26 points and that was the difference in the race.

Filosa, the favorite, fought off the challenge of sophomore Chuck Elliott of Palatine for most of three miles. In the end, Elliott faded to third and Prospect's Bill Hrbek snuck into second, just a count behind Filosa.

Fremd's second runner, junior Dan Tischler,and the Vikes' third man, Dean Elleman, were right where they were supposed to be, too.

"Elleman got out fast and ran a good race," said Menely later. "Tischler, though, cramped up back there. When he came around he told me, 'coach, I've got a cramp.' I told him, 'Dan, you've gotta do it, you've got just two races left. He was back in about 12th place when he got the cramp, but he bent over a couple times and worked it out."

Tischler was fifth over-all, just behind Palatine junior Tony Vargas, who turned in his finest performance of the year. Elleman was 13th, three spots behind Palatine's third man, senior Dave Horwath.

"The kids ran as a team today," Menely said. "They got together today, they had a team meeting. I wasn't even there. They decided that they could do it — they felt that they could win. I'm awfully proud of them."

Palatine coach Joe Johnson, whose harriers will get one final crack at Fremd in Saturday's Lake Forest Sectional, wouldn't fault his boys.

"They got the most of their abilities," he said. "They ran a good race, they went out and made Fremd come after them. They didn't beat themselves."

Pirate sophomore Jon Dahlgren was 27th and senior Pete Kearns, who was up near the front for a good part of the race, finished 35th.

Hoffman, in third place, got strong efforts from Sam Cox (6th) and Kevin Rooney (7th). Prospect's Hrbek and junior Jack Pittman (8th) ran well, but their next three men, Matt Lawson (30th), Dave Hayes (40th) and Mark Smith (41st), were too far back to help.

Arlington got a strong finish from Mike Fischer, who was 15th, as the young Cardinals took a fifth place. Forest View was sixth.

Fremd's strength showed on all four levels, including the girls race, which they won with just 31 points as Sharon Ratcliffe (2nd), Linda Skinner (3rd), Lori Lagerhausen (7th), Lois Johnson (8th), and Jan Fletcher (11th) placed in the top 14.

The individual girls' champ was Wheeling's Gail Miloch, who turned in a time of 12:39. Teammate Bonnie Buenzow was fourth.

Fremd won the sophomore title, too, as Viking freshman Tom Ross was the individual winner.

Paddock Trophy to honor top girls program

by PAUL LOGAN
Associate Sports Editor

Paddock Publications came up with an idea eight years ago:

Why not follow the West Suburban Conference's example and present a large, traveling award for over-all sports excellence in the Mid-Suburban League?

That's how the Paddock Cup came into being. But the award only covered varsity sports for boys.

Since the Mid-Suburban also has an ever-growing commitment to girl athletes, another award was necessary.

Starting this school year, The Herald will begin presenting a trophy for the top girls' athletic program — the Paddock Trophy.

The award has a slightly different name so it will not be confused with the boys' award. However, the huge (over four feet tall!) trophy is more than equal in size and beauty to the Paddock Cup.

Last Saturday's MSL meets in swimming and archery concluded the fall season for girls. After compiling points for these two sports as well as tennis (which ended the week before), the leader going into the winter season is Arlington.

The race is quite close with Arlington having a 13.33 average, Prospect at 12.33 and Fremd at 11.50. The complete fall season totals as well as points broken down by sports appears elsewhere on this page.

More than half the MSL schools must participate in a sport before it can be included in the over-all point total. Ten sports will be used to determine the 1975-76 winner — archery, tennis, swimming, basketball, bowling, volleyball, badminton, track and field, softball and gymnastics.

Points are awarded according to a school's finish in each sport with 14 for over-all champion, 12 for second, 11 for third best record, et cetera. The total points then are divided by the number of sports each school actually participates in on a varsity level.

Following the winter campaign in volleyball, bowling and basketball, the results will be published in March.

The final over-all results will be announced in June after the spring season of badminton, track and field, gymnastics and softball.

The Paddock Trophy will then be presented to the winning athletic department at the school's awards banquet.

If a school should win the trophy three straight years, it will be retired and a new one will be purchased. It could happen for it has occurred twice with the Paddock Cup.

Formco stops Beverly in Classic sizzler; Hansen's 815 state high

by GENE KIRKHAM

The Paddock Classic League invaded Buffalo Grove Striker Lanes Saturday night with an 800 series, two 700's, and 13 other series over the 600 mark in an astounding show of high-class bowling.

The match between Beverly Lanes and Formco Metal Products produced the greatest scoring ever seen by the Paddock Classic League with Formco Metal winning seven points from Beverly with a possible state high 3491 series.

Formco, last year's champion, had been lagging in fifth place in the league but came to bowl as they opened up with 1184 to Beverly's 993. Formco followed with 1154, and 1153 for their powerful 3491 series. Beverly Lanes added 1008, and 1059 to total 3060 in a great losing effort.

Fred Hansen of Formco could be starting his greatest bowling season as he recently rolled a 300 game at Manor Bowl in Chicago and in this match did no less than fire the state high 815 series. With an opening 290 game Hansen followed with 256 and 269. Mike Heffner, recently returned from London, fired games of 266, 248 and 224 for a 738 series.

Bob Kula ripped 693 with games of 211, 279 and 203, Mike Shoop had 213, 202 and 224 for 639, and Barry Stjernberg had 204, 169 and 233 for a 606 series.

For Beverly Lanes Les Zikes took over the average leadership with a 212 average helped out by his 710 series in this match. Zikes had games of 210, 233 and 267. Bob Green had 626 with games of 229, 185 and 212, and Ken Miller fired 210, 202 and 210 for a 622 series.

Formco's seven point victory moved them into a second place tie with Des Plaines Ace Hardware.

Oost Produce won five of seven from Des Plaines Ace Hardware to remain in first place with a 10-point lead. Oost had games of 966, 1039 and 825 for a 2830 series. Des Plaines Ace Hardware won the third game with a 904. For Oost Produce John Giovanelli had 195, 232 and 191 for a 618 series and Terry Nichols had 237, 197 and 168 for 602.

Teddy's Liquors won five of seven from Pickwick House winning the first two games with 902, and 959 and the series point with 2697. Pickwick House won the third game with 955.

Tom Kouros led the scoring for Teddy's with a 628 series on games of 208, 231 and 189. For Pickwick House Bob Hurwitz had 178, 205 and 217 for 600 even.

Dick McFeely Pontiac won five points from Buffalo Grove Strike Lanes. Winning with 989 and 964 McFeely Pontiac totaled 2918. Striker Lanes won the second game with 1004 and totaled 2814.

Jim Reuper led the scoring for McFeely Pontiac with games of 194, 245 and 200 for a 639 series. Randy Aubert had 220, 168 and 215 for a 603 series. For Strike Lanes Bud Ewert had 183, 212 and 205 for 600 even and Ray Ischer had 166, 199 and 235 for another 600 even series.

Formco' 3491 series Saturday compares favorably with last season's national leaders in that category. The nation's high series in 1974-75 went to the Special Edition team from San Antonio, Tex. with a 3606. A 3519 series received an honorable mention, not far off Formco's total.

This Saturday the Paddock Classic will bowl at Hoffman Lanes with a position round scheduled: Oost vs. Formco, Des Plaines Ace Hardware vs. Beverly Lanes, Striker Lanes vs. Pickwick House and Teddy's Liquors vs. McFeely Pontiac.

Yanks harvest gold

Swimmers wearing U.S. uniforms swept all six pool events Tuesday, and with the wrestling team winning five of 10 weight divisions, the American harvest of gold medals continued at the Pan American Games in Mexico City.

For good measure add two golds in the four yachting classes, medals which were locked up with the final regatta still to be sailed today. At the pace the U.S. team has been going the last three days, it is conceivable the squad could surpass the 89 individual awards it brought home from Cali, Colombia, four years ago.

At the Olympic Pool, Americans finished 1-2 in three events: Rick Colella and Kathy Heddy won their second gold medals in three days; and outspoken world champion Victor Delgado of Ecuador, a student at Southern Illinois, met his match in the 200-meter butterfly.

Delgado, the only non-American male to triumph in the pool following his victory in the 100-meter Sunday, was relegated to third place behind Greg Jagenburg of West Chester, Pa., who won the event in 2:03.42, with Steve Gregg of Wilmington, Del., coming through in the final meters to catch the tiring Ecuadoran for second.

Heddy, 17, added the 400 meter individual medley title to the 200 individual medley she won earlier at the Games by coming from behind with a storming final freestyle leg to win by about a half length from Canada's Cheryl Gibson in 5:06.05.

Pardee gives Bears a 'vacation'

The Chicago Bears had an unaccustomed vacation Tuesday when coach Jack Pardee gave them the afternoon off following the usual morning drill. Pardee explained that because there was an extra day before the Bears' next game, Monday night against Minnesota instead of the usual Sunday, he could give the players a break in the routine.

Pardee said there was no change in the Bears injury list, with wide receiver Ron Shanklin the only doubtful participant Monday and four players probable, through injured — running backs Walter Payton and Cid Edwards, defensive back Nemiah Wilson and defensive end Richard Harris.

There were 3,297 tickets remaining Wednesday afternoon for the Monday game and, if they are not sold by 8 p.m. (CDT) Friday, the nationally televised game would be blacked out in Chicago.

Willowbrook perfect in poll

Undefeated Willowbrook hung up the first perfect score ever in United Press International's Illinois high school football ratings voted by coaches with every No. 1 vote for 130 points to top the Class 4A-5A ratings.

There were few changes in the top 10 in Class 4A-5A with Glenbard West, Hersey, Joliet Catholic, Deerfield and Schaumburg continuing to hold the next five positions, No. 2 through No. 6, behind Willowbrook. Thornwood also continued as No. 10. Loyola, though a winner, dropped from No. 7 to No. 9, and both Peoria Manual and Maine South moved up one notch, to No. 7 and No. 8.

Decatur St. Teresa was almost as highly regarded in hanging on to its No. 1 rating in the Class 1A-2A-3A, listed No. 1 by 10 of the 12 coaches. However, one coach rated St. Teresa ninth and another sixth and it wound up with 115 points, five under a perfect score.

One miss gives Hermanson top honors in grid picks

The 50-yard line of the Herald's Pick the Winner's Contest was crossed this week as Tom Hermanson, 18, of 1747 Verde Drive in Mount Prospect, captured the sixth edition of the competition.

Hermanson, a graduate of St. Viator High School who is now employed at Dominick's, called all but one game correctly to nose out a whole slew of contestants who missed just two games.

Hermanson's lone mistake en route to the weekly radio and chance at the grand prize of a trip to the Rose Bowl in California was in picking Hoffman Estates over Elk Grove.

Tom Hermanson

At the halfway point in the contest the results of the games which 919 entrants tried to predict were as follows: Forest View 28, Conant 12; Elk Grove 7, Hoffman Estates 0; Rolling Meadows 36, Waukegan West 6; Arlington 29, Fremd 15; Hersey 20, Palatine 7; Schaumburg 14, Prospect 7 Buffalo Grove 10, Wheeling 6; St. Viator 7, St. Patrick's 0; Glenbrook South 14, Maine West 13.

DuPage 13, Harper 3.

Purdue 26, Illinois 24; California 51, Oregon State 24; Citadel 44, Davidson 0; Richmond 24, VMI 19; Toledo 25, Western Michigan 7.

Miami 43, New York Jets 0; St. Louis 31, Philadelphia 20; Kansas City 12, San Diego 10; Cincinnati 14, Oakland 10.

In the tiebreaker Iowa topped Indiana 20-10.

Mason Shoes, Thunderbird pick up seven in Classic

Bowling at Fair Lanes Rolling Meadows Bowl, two teams were seven point winners in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League.

Thunderbird Country Club upset the strong L-Tran Engineering team as they won seven points with games of 937, 914, and 880 for a 2731 total.

L-Tran had 860, 900, and 855 for a 2615 total.

Jean Ladd led the scoring for Thunderbird with a 583 series which included a 211 game. Joan Wisniewski had 564, Dee Kachelmuss 205-551, and Mary Yurs 541. For L-Tran Engineering Lorrie Nichols rolled 578, Toshi Inahara had 541, and Vi Douglas had 501.

Mason Shoes was the only other seven-point winner as they swept their series against Lass Excavating Contractors. Mason had 878, 892, and 838 for a 2608 series.

Mary Lou Kolb of Mason Shoes led the scoring as she rolled a 233 game and 579 series. Peggy Wales had 526, Irma Faust had 515, and Rita Buge had 505. For Lass Excavating Emily Dragoon had a 520 series.

Striking Lanes moved into first place by one point as they won five of seven from Ziebart Rustproofing, now in second place. Striking won with 804 and 885 as they totaled 2546 while Ziebart won the middle game with 887.

Judy Brumond led Striking Lanes with her 523 with Lu Schoenberger adding 508. For Ziebart Rustproofing Tiny Cazel totaled 536 and Joan Christensen had a 502 series.

Ten Pin Bowl won five points from Petterson Safety Service. Winning the second and third games with 897 and 925, Ten Pin totaled 2659.

Petterson Safety Service won the first game with 935 and had a team series of 2627. Bobbie Kostelny of Petterson Safety Service led the scoring in the league as she rolled 238, 195, and 161 for a 594 series. Also for Petterson, Winnie Lohse had 203-557 and Bonnie Kuhn had 536. For Ten Pin Bowl, Ethel Junger hit 587 with games of 216, 178, and 193, Joan Plywack had 205-541, Marge Lindenburg had 200-532, and Betty Peterman added 222-503.

This Saturday the league will travel to Des Plaines Lanes with the following match games scheduled: Petterson Safety Service vs Striking Lanes, Ten Pin Bowl vs L-Tran Engineering, Ziebart Rustproofing vs Mason Shoes, and Thunderbird Country Club vs Lass Excavating.

Formco's seven point victory moved them into a second place tie with Des Plaines Ace Hardware.

Oost Produce won five of seven from Des Plaines Ace Hardware to remain in first place with a 10-point lead. Oost had games of 966, 1039 and 825 for a 2830 series. Des Plaines Ace Hardware won the third game with a 904. For Oost Produce John Giovanelli had 195, 232 and 191 for a 618 series and Terry Nichols had 237, 197 and 168 for 602.

Teddy's Liquors won five of seven from Pickwick House winning the first two games with 902, and 959 and the series point with 2697. Pickwick House won the third game with 955.

Tom Kouros led the scoring for Teddy's with a 628 series on games of 208, 231 and 189. For Pickwick House Bob Hurwitz had 178, 205 and 217 for 600 even.

Dick McFeely Pontiac won five points from Buffalo Grove Strike Lanes. Winning with 989 and 964 McFeely Pontiac totaled 2918. Striker Lanes won the second game with 1004 and totaled 2814.

Jim Reuper led the scoring for McFeely Pontiac with games of 194, 245 and 200 for a 639 series. Randy Aubert had 220, 168 and 215 for a 603 series. For Strike Lanes Bud Ewert had 183, 212 and 205 for 600 even and Ray Ischer had 166, 199 and 235 for another 600 even series.

Formco' 3491 series Saturday compares favorably with last season's national leaders in that category. The nation's high series in 1974-75 went to the Special Edition team from San Antonio, Tex. with a 3606. A 3519 series received an honorable mention, not far off Formco's total.

This Saturday the Paddock Classic will bowl at Hoffman Lanes with a position round scheduled: Oost vs. Formco, Des Plaines Ace Hardware vs. Beverly Lanes, Striker Lanes vs. Pickwick House and Teddy's Liquors vs. McFeely Pontiac.

CARL YASTRZEMSKI shows he still has the defensive skill of a youngster by robbing Cincinnati's Pete Rose in the first inning Tuesday night at Boston in the World Series.

Yanks harvest gold

Swimmers wearing U.S. uniforms swept all six pool events Tuesday, and with the wrestling team winning five of 10 weight divisions, the American harvest of gold medals continued at the Pan American Games in Mexico City.

For good measure add two golds in the four yachting classes, medals which were locked up with the final regatta still to be sailed today. At the pace the U.S. team has been going the last three days, it is conceivable the squad could surpass the 89 individual awards it brought home from Cali, Colombia, four years ago.

At the Olympic Pool, Americans finished 1-2 in three events: Rick Colella and Kathy Heddy won their second gold medals in three days; and outspoken world champion Victor Delgado of Ecuador, a student at Southern Illinois, met his match in the 200-meter butterfly.

Delgado, the only non-American male to triumph in the pool following his victory in the 100-meter Sunday, was relegated to third place behind Greg Jagenburg of West Chester, Pa., who won the event in 2:03.42, with Steve Gregg of Wilmington, Del., coming through in the final meters to catch the tiring Ecuadoran for second.

Heddy, 17, added the 400 meter individual medley title to the 200 individual medley she won earlier at the Games by coming from behind with a storming final freestyle leg to win by about a half length from Canada's Cheryl Gibson in 5:06.05.

The Russians are coming! The . . .

The Chicago Black Hawks will be one of eight National Hockey League teams that will play an eight-game series with two teams from the Soviet Union, according to an NHL spokesperson Tuesday. The Black Hawks will host the Russians on Jan. 7 . . .

National Basketball Association owners voted to limit the center jump at league games during the 1975-76 season, but tabled a suggestion to add a third official.

A spokesman said that the applications for membership in the NBA from nine American Basketball Association clubs were not discussed. . . .

Mayor T. Bynum Hatley of Hallsville, Tex., signed a resolution demanding a public apology from sports commentator Howard Cosell for his disparaging remarks about the abilities of hometown hero Robert Newhouse, running back for the NFL Dallas Cowboys. "We demand that Mr. Howard Cosell and the American Broadcasting Co. extend a nationwide public apology and this apology should also include the Dallas Cowboys," the mayor's proclamation said. Cosell said on television during the Dallas-Detroit game in Detroit Oct. 13 Newhouse was a "bad runner."

Pardee gives Bears a 'vacation'

The Chicago Bears had an unaccustomed vacation Tuesday when coach Jack Pardee gave them the afternoon off following the usual morning drill. Pardee explained that because there was an extra day before the Bears' next game, Monday night against Minnesota instead of the usual Sunday, he could give the players a break in the routine.

Pardee said there was no change in the Bears injury list, with wide receiver Ron Shanklin the only doubtful participant Monday and four players probable, through injured — running backs Walter Payton and Cid Edwards, defensive back Nemiah Wilson and defensive end Richard Harris.

There were 3,297 tickets remaining Wednesday afternoon for the Monday game and, if they are not sold by 8 p.m. (CDT) Friday, the nationally televised game would be blacked out in Chicago.

Willowbrook perfect in poll

Undefeated Willowbrook hung up the first perfect score ever in United Press International's Illinois high school football ratings voted by coaches with every No. 1 vote for 130 points to top the Class 4A-5A ratings.

There were few changes in the top 10 in Class 4A-5A with Glenbard West, Hersey, Joliet Catholic, Deerfield and Schaumburg continuing to hold the next five positions, No. 2 through No. 6, behind Willowbrook. Thornwood also continued as No. 10. Loyola, though a winner, dropped from No. 7 to No. 9, and both Peoria Manual and Maine South moved up one notch, to No. 7 and No. 8.

Decatur St. Teresa was almost as highly regarded in hanging on to its No. 1 rating in the Class 1A-2A-3A, listed No. 1 by 10 of the 12 coaches. However, one coach rated St. Teresa ninth and another sixth and it wound up with 115 points, five under a perfect score.

One miss gives Hermanson top honors in grid picks

The 50-yard line of the Herald's Pick the Winner's Contest was crossed this week as Tom Hermanson, 18, of 1747 Verde Drive in Mount Prospect, captured the sixth edition of the competition.

Hermanson, a graduate of St. Viator High School who is now employed at Dominick's, called all but one game correctly to nose out a whole slew of contestants who missed just two games.

Hermanson's lone mistake en route to the weekly radio and chance at the grand prize of a trip to the Rose Bowl in California was in picking Hoffman Estates over Elk Grove.

Tom Hermanson

At the halfway point in the contest the results of the games which 919 entrants tried to predict were as follows: Forest View 28, Conant 12; Elk Grove 7, Hoffman Estates 0; Rolling Meadows 36, Waukegan West 6; Arlington 29, Fremd 15; Hersey 20, Palatine 7; Schaumburg 14, Prospect 7 Buffalo Grove 10, Wheeling 6; St. Viator 7, St. Patrick's 0; Glenbrook South 14, Maine West 13.

DuPage 13, Harper 3.

Purdue 26, Illinois 24; California 51, Oregon State 24; Citadel 44, Davidson 0; Richmond 24, VMI 19; Toledo 25, Western Michigan 7.

Miami 43, New York Jets 0; St. Louis 31, Philadelphia 20; Kansas City 12, San Diego 10; Cincinnati 14, Oakland 10.

In the tiebreaker Iowa topped Indiana 20-10.

Mason Shoes, Thunderbird pick up seven in Classic

Bowling at Fair Lanes Rolling Meadows Bowl, two teams were seven point winners in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League.

Thunderbird Country Club upset the strong L-Tran Engineering team as they won seven points with games of 937, 914, and 880 for a 2731 total.

L-Tran had 860, 900, and 855 for a 2615 total.

Jean Ladd led the scoring for Thunderbird with a 583 series which included a 211 game. Joan Wisniewski had 564, Dee Kachelmuss 205-551, and Mary Yurs 541. For L-Tran Engineering Lorrie Nichols rolled 578, Toshi Inahara had 541, and Vi Douglas had 501.

Mason Shoes was the only other seven-point winner as they swept their series against Lass Excavating Contractors. Mason had 878, 892, and 838 for a 2608 series.

Mary Lou Kolb of Mason Shoes led the scoring as she rolled a 233 game and 579 series. Peggy Wales had 526, Irma Faust had 515, and Rita Buge had 505. For Lass Excavating Emily Dragoon had a 520 series.

Striking Lanes moved into first place by one point as they won five of seven from Ziebart Rustproofing, now in second place. Striking won with 804 and 885 as they totaled 2546 while Ziebart won the middle game with 887.

Judy Brumond led Striking Lanes with her 523 with Lu Schoenberger adding 508. For Ziebart Rustproofing Tiny Cazel totaled 536 and Joan Christensen had a 502 series.

Ten Pin Bowl won five points from Petterson Safety Service. Winning the second and third games with 897 and 925, Ten Pin totaled 2659.

Petterson Safety Service won the first game with 935 and had a team series of 2627. Bobbie Kostelny of Petterson Safety Service led the scoring in the league as she rolled 238, 195, and 161 for a 594 series. Also for Petterson, Winnie Lohse had 203-557 and Bonnie Kuhn had 536. For Ten Pin Bowl, Ethel Junger hit 587 with games of 216, 178, and 193, Joan Plywack had 205-541, Marge Lindenburg had 200-532, and Betty Peterman added 222-503.

This Saturday the league will travel to Des Plaines Lanes with the following match games scheduled: Petterson Safety Service vs Striking Lanes, Ten Pin Bowl vs L-Tran Engineering, Ziebart Rustproofing vs Mason Shoes, and Thunderbird Country Club vs Lass Excavating.

How would Bowie fare as garbage collector?

Mike Klein
Sports Columnist

The greatest baseball commissioners rank right up the public service ladder with good garbage collectors. They are the most powerful men in our social struggle.

Actually, most Americans are more concerned with the job being done by their garbage collector. He removes our daily addition to the cultural product.

This eliminates the need for shooting backyard rats. Or worrying that your kid might bite one.

Baseball commissioners give us baseball, form committees, have lines in their face and mostly fail to rule strongly on issues such as the designated hitter.

They also speak only when the National League says it is all right to speak. This assures that baseball will always be played the National League way.

Baseball, of course, is the logical outlet for our most deviant emotions because it has such a long season, overlapping with just four months of hockey.

This allows for the development of emtions such as, "Heeee popped it up!", "Get him outta there!" or "Hey, Harry!"

When you can loosen your emotions at the White Sox or Cubs from February to October, there are few good reasons to beat the wife, kick the dog, accuse the girlfriend of being a cheat or threaten your kid's teacher with a punch in the smacker.

Baseball commissioners, in the olden days, were a tough breed. I am reminded of Kenesaw "Mountain" Landis. When asked if any games of the 1922 World Series would be played at night, Landis said, "I dunno. Radio makes those decisions."

Now we've got Bowie Kuhn. What can you say about him? Hmmpfh. He's outlasted Gen. William D. Eckert. And wasn't the general a wonderful commissioner.

Nobody seems to give three solid hoots for poor, aging, balding Bowie. At least, Bowie's not on very many Christmas lists of people I know.

It's true that there's hardly a baseball stadium in the land where some cash paying customer won't consider throwing a Sportservice burger at Kuhn or pulling down his socks.

It worries me. All this bad treatment could destroy the man.

I am fearful of the morning when we open our newspaper sports sections and discover that Bowie has crumbled under the many pressures, quit his job and retired to a nice little home in Harlem.

Even that won't be his complete salvation. On good authority, I understand that his new neighbors would not favor a tall, balding lawyer who wears glasses, has thin, straight hair and once worked for the National League.

That is because Harlem contains mostly American League fans.

Some fans even regard Kuhn as the commissioner of boxing. Or rodeo. When baseball fans see Kuhn, there's talk of "Rope-a-dope." Mostly, they boo.

When the National League decided six years ago that Kuhn should become baseball's commissioner, this was not exactly like announcing that Will Rogers or Annie Oakley or John Dillinger was coming to town.

In truth, Bowie Kuhn creates less excitement than six Lake Michigan Carp seen heading up the Des Plaines River. Bowie just doesn't have it.

Bowie draws crowds, all right. Everywhere that Kuhn and Dr. Kissinger go, there are many Secret Service men who would seldom sacrifice themselves to save the beloved baseball commissioner.

And whenever Kuhn attends the World Series, thousands of people fill the stands.

Actually, that is what reminded me of Kuhn. The World Series. It should be the commissioner's greatest moment.

At the Series, a commissioner can be seen on television by all his friends, eat some of the same Sportservice slop everyone else eats, meet people from the American League and get his favorite player's autograph.

Usually, the sun is shining. But not the past few days in Boston.

It's rained long and hard since last Saturday in Beanville. And there stands the poor commissioner, powerless in his own time as little droplets smear his funky glasses.

There was a fine chance that game six would be played Tuesday night. If so, Cincinnati could end the Series. Or Boston could set up game seven.

Actually, I've tired of hearing about the Series.

It was so good for five games. The right league was winning. Kuhn should have asked Walter O'Malley if it wasn't all right to just play five games this year.

Instead, the big news from Boston this week has been Luis Tiant's cold, a shopping trip the Cincinnati wives took with their husbands and Pete Rose playing with a toy cannon in his hotel lobby.

And the wait grew longer. All the country cared, I guess. Bowie cared enough to go watch New England defeat Baltimore in Niffle ball.

People waited in New York, too. They waited to see if Honky Tonk Town will be broke for Christmas. They waited to see if there won't be any more garbage collectors.

And when there aren't, long about the first of Christmas month, then we'll see who really runs this country.

It's the rats. Next time you see a rat, bite one. Bite it for Bowie. He needs the help.

HOUSE LEAGUE
BOYS
Beginners

Dragonflies 6, Hornets 0
Hornet Tim Updike put in a great effort, but the Dragonflies flew away with the game on special efforts by Dave Raby, Tom Maloney, and Dave Williams; a shutout for goalies Matt Lopresti and Jerry Standiford, and goals by Raby (3), Mike Lopresti, Williams, and Bob Brunk.

Bees 4, Wasps 2
Both teams came through with a good game under extremely windy conditions. For the Wasps there was good defensive play by Patrick Brodnan and Jimmy Nix and scores by Chad Brewer and Daryl Kincannon. The Bee scorers were Craig Hartman (2), Tim Sauer and Jon Paul Livingston.

Juniors

Tigers 10, Cougars 1
Brian Carroll spoiled the Tiger shutout for goalies John Pejchl and Brian Puls while the Tigers romped home on goals by Brian Tow (3), Rich Drozd (2), Billy Murphy (2), Steve Pejchl, Gary Szydlo, and Desi Czoka.

Cheetahs 5, Leopards 3
Cheetah goals were by Kevin Regini (3), Erik BoHansen, and Michael Duetschmann. Leopard tallies were by Kevin Ruzbasan, Hans Hofman and Mike Ahearn.

Bobcats 4, Wildcats 1
The Bobcats won the cat fight on goals by Chris Abbick, Tony Bartolini, Scott Padgett, and Kevin Smith; assists by Tom Mueller (2), Padgett (2), and Abbick; and solid defense by Scott Drexler, Mike Sauer, Paul Exell, and Mark Dammes. Wildcats stars were Mike Duffy, Chris Hahlmann, and Tom Kearns, who scored.

Pumas 4, Jauguars 4
The Puma hat trick was scored by Mike Updike and the single by Bret Hartman. The Jaguar hat trick was by James Joll and the single by David Eck.

INTERMEDIATES
Snipes 5, Orioles 1
The Snipe scoring was dominated by Brian McLean with four, followed by Tom Chu with one. The Oriole tally was by Mike Hogan.

Roadrunners 4, Eagles 0
Roadrunner goals were by Chris Schager, Jeff Abrahamson, John Chope, and John McDaniel. John Chope and Phil Babler shared credit for the shutout and Schager made two assists.

Cardinals 3, Condors 2
A hard-fought match saw the Cardinals come out on top with goals by Rick Ruzbasan (assisted by Jeff Moore and Jim Francis) and Francis (assisted by Moore). The Condor goals were both by Keith LaMasse (the first assisted by Brad Seybert and Jim Martin, and the second by Brad Lawrenz).

Hawks 7, Falcons 0
A good effort from Falcon goalies Matt Helander and Bill Scott, and good hustle from Rob Perenzen was powerless in front of the Hawk onslaught. Jim Rennie, John Jennings, and Lars Bergstrom each scored twice while John Leonora scored once and Chris Olsson earned the shutout for the Hawks.

SENIORS
Badgers 1, Bucks 1
Chris Braun booted in the Badger tally on an assist by Joe Schager. The Buck goal was by Andy Grow on an assist by Matt Parker.

Seals 2, Beavers 1
The undermanned Beavers held the lead during most of the game on outstanding defense by Tom and Jeff Seiter and Tom O'Driscoll and a single goal by Charlie Marsland on an assist by Rich McElman, but the Seals, finally won on good play by Stewart Smith, Greg Norvs, and Kevin McKenna and two goals by Rick Puls.

GIRLS

Chicken Hawks 2, Love Birds 0
Love Birds Cathy Maher, Mary Maloney and Emily Wood starred on offense and Tracy Carlson and Mary Beth Barrett on defense, but the Hawks had it their own way on good play by halfbacks Kris Glass and Allison Lyng, goals by Vicki Swanson and Cheryl Crim and a shutout for goalie Sandra Kennedy.

Cardinals 3, Love Birds 0
Cindy Curylo made her first hat trick for the Cards and Michelle Regini, Jenny Brennan, and Christine Caviolo shone on the field. Love Birds Tracy Carlson, Marie Csoka, Emily Wood and Heide Campbell were strong in the Love Bird defense.

INTERMEDIATES
Golden Spurs 4, Clover 0
The Spurs maintained their perfect record on goals by Nancy Melberg (2), Patty Nix and Mary Ann Maher, assists by Karin Groth and Carol Thielen (2), a shutout for Christy Eme, and excellent defense work by Patty Melberg and Maria Breen.

Clover 1, White Lightning 1
The Clover all put in a sterling performance to tie the Lightning on a goal by Tracy Christensen. The Lightning goal was popped in by Cindy Chope.

Blue Jeans 2, Rovers 0
Good team play, goals by Joanne McElman and Kelly Lyng, and shutout play by Sue Fraser and Marilee Richards brought the Jean win despite the good effort of Rovers Kristin McCarthy and Kim Allison.

SENIORS
Chickadees 2, Sea Gulls 1
Laura Francis and Anne Marie Schager scored for the Chickadees and Patti Reiter for the Gulls.

Robins 2, Doves 2
The Doves came within minutes of upsetting the league-leading Robins on goals by Carolyn Origer and Cathy Cudney and outstanding play by Mary Jo Skangel, Joan Naughton, Gail Monaco, Peggy Malouf, Jean Cole, and Belinda Foy. Karen Felix and Donna Veschuroff (on an assist by Lori Solimene) scored for the Robins.

TRAVELING TEAMS

How would Bowie fare as garbage collector?

Mike Klein
Sports Columnist

The greatest baseball commissioners rank right up the public service ladder with good garbage collectors. They are the most powerful men in our social struggle.

Actually, most Americans are more concerned with the job being done by their garbage collector. He removes our daily addition to the cultural product.

This eliminates the need for shooting backyard rats. Or worrying that your kid might bite one.

Baseball commissioners give us baseball, form committees, have lines in their face and mostly fail to rule strongly on issues such as the designated hitter.

They also speak only when the National League says it is all right to speak. This assures that baseball will always be played the National League way.

Baseball, of course, is the logical outlet for our most deviant emotions because it has such a long season, overlapping with just four months of hockey.

This allows for the development of emtions such as, "Heeee popped it up!", "Get him outta there!" or "Hey, Harry!"

When you can loosen your emotions at the White Sox or Cubs from February to October, there are few good reasons to beat the wife, kick the dog, accuse the girlfriend of being a cheat or threaten your kid's teacher with a punch in the smacker.

Baseball commissioners, in the olden days, were a tough breed. I am reminded of Kenesaw "Mountain" Landis. When asked if any games of the 1922 World Series would be played at night, Landis said, "I dunno. Radio makes those decisions."

Now we've got Bowie Kuhn. What can you say about him? Hmmpfh. He's outlasted Gen. William D. Eckert. And wasn't the general a wonderful commissioner.

Nobody seems to give three solid hoots for poor, aging, balding Bowie. At least, Bowie's not on very many Christmas lists of people I know.

It's true that there's hardly a baseball stadium in the land where some cash paying customer won't consider throwing a Sportservice burger at Kuhn or pulling down his socks.

It worries me. All this bad treatment could destroy the man.

I am fearful of the morning when we open our newspaper sports sections and discover that Bowie has crumbled under the many pressures, quit his job and retired to a nice little home in Harlem.

Even that won't be his complete salvation. On good authority, I understand that his new neighbors would not favor a tall, balding lawyer who wears glasses, has thin, straight hair and once worked for the National League.

That is because Harlem contains mostly American League fans.

Some fans even regard Kuhn as the commissioner of boxing. Or rodeo. When baseball fans see Kuhn, there's talk of "Rope-a-dope." Mostly, they boo.

When the National League decided six years ago that Kuhn should become baseball's commissioner, this was not exactly like announcing that Will Rogers or Annie Oakley or John Dillinger was coming to town.

In truth, Bowie Kuhn creates less excitement than six Lake Michigan Carp seen heading up the Des Plaines River. Bowie just doesn't have it.

Bowie draws crowds, all right. Everywhere that Kuhn and Dr. Kissinger go, there are many Secret Service men who would seldom sacrifice themselves to save the beloved baseball commissioner.

And whenever Kuhn attends the World Series, thousands of people fill the stands.

Actually, that is what reminded me of Kuhn. The World Series. It should be the commissioner's greatest moment.

At the Series, a commissioner can be seen on television by all his friends, eat some of the same Sportservice slop everyone else eats, meet people from the American League and get his favorite player's autograph.

Usually, the sun is shining. But not the past few days in Boston.

It's rained long and hard since last Saturday in Beanville. And there stands the poor commissioner, powerless in his own time as little droplets smear his funky glasses.

There was a fine chance that game six would be played Tuesday night. If so, Cincinnati could end the Series. Or Boston could set up game seven.

Actually, I've tired of hearing about the Series.

It was so good for five games. The right league was winning. Kuhn should have asked Walter O'Malley if it wasn't all right to just play five games this year.

Instead, the big news from Boston this week has been Luis Tiant's cold, a shopping trip the Cincinnati wives took with their husbands and Pete Rose playing with a toy cannon in his hotel lobby.

And the wait grew longer. All the country cared, I guess. Bowie cared enough to go watch New England defeat Baltimore in Niffle ball.

People waited in New York, too. They waited to see if Honky Tonk Town will be broke for Christmas. They waited to see if there won't be any more garbage collectors.

And when there aren't, long about the first of Christmas month, then we'll see who really runs this country.

It's the rats. Next time you see a rat, bite one. Bite it for Bowie. He needs the help.

HOUSE LEAGUE
BOYS
Beginners

Dragonflies 6, Hornets 0
Hornet Tim Updike put in a great effort, but the Dragonflies flew away with the game on special efforts by Dave Raby, Tom Maloney, and Dave Williams; a shutout for goalies Matt Lopresti and Jerry Standiford, and goals by Raby (3), Mike Lopresti, Williams, and Bob Brunk.

Bees 4, Wasps 2
Both teams came through with a good game under extremely windy conditions. For the Wasps there was good defensive play by Patrick Brodnan and Jimmy Nix and scores by Chad Brewer and Daryl Kincannon. The Bee scorers were Craig Hartman (2), Tim Sauer and Jon Paul Livingston.

Juniors

Tigers 10, Cougars 1
Brian Carroll spoiled the Tiger shutout for goalies John Pejchl and Brian Puls while the Tigers romped home on goals by Brian Tow (3), Rich Drozd (2), Billy Murphy (2), Steve Pejchl, Gary Szydlo, and Desi Czoka.

Cheetahs 5, Leopards 3
Cheetah goals were by Kevin Regini (3), Erik BoHansen, and Michael Duetschmann. Leopard tallies were by Kevin Ruzbasan, Hans Hofman and Mike Ahearn.

Bobcats 4, Wildcats 1

The Snipe scoring was dominated by Brian McLean with four, followed by Tom Chu with one. The Oriole tally was by Mike Hogan.

Roadrunners 4, Eagles 0
Roadrunner goals were by Chris Schager, Jeff Abrahamson, John Chope, and John McDaniel. John Chope and Phil Babler shared credit for the shutout and Schager made two assists.

Cardinals 3, Condors 2
A hard-fought match saw the Cardinals come out on top with goals by Rick Ruzbasan (assisted by Jeff Moore and Jim Francis) and Francis (assisted by Moore). The Condor goals were both by Keith LaMasse (the first assisted by Brad Seybert and Jim Martin, and the second by Brad Lawrenz).

Hawks 7, Falcons 0
A good effort from Falcon goalies Matt Helander and Bill Scott, and good hustle from Rob Perenzen was powerless in front of the Hawk onslaught. Jim Rennie, John Jennings, and Lars Bergstrom each scored twice while John Leonora scored once and Chris Olsson earned the shutout for the Hawks.

SENIORS
Badgers 1, Bucks 1
Chris Braun booted in the Badger tally on an assist by Joe Schager. The Buck goal was by Andy Grow on an assist by Matt Parker.

Seals 2, Beavers 1
The undermanned Beavers held the lead during most of the game on outstanding defense by Tom and Jeff Seiter and Tom O'Driscoll and a single goal by Charlie Marsland on an assist by Rich McElman, but the Seals, finally won on good play by Stewart Smith, Greg Norvs, and Kevin McKenna and two goals by Rick Puls.

Chicken Hawks 2, Love Birds 0
Love Birds Cathy Maher, Mary Maloney and Emily Wood starred on offense and Tracy Carlson and Mary Beth Barrett on defense, but the Hawks had it their own way on good play by halfbacks Kris Glass and Allison Lyng, goals by Vicki Swanson and Cheryl Crim and a shutout for goalie Sandra Kennedy.

Cardinals 3, Love Birds 0
Cindy Curylo made her first hat trick for the Cards and Michelle Regini, Jenny Brennan, and Christine Caviolo shone on the field. Love Birds Tracy Carlson, Marie Csoka, Emily Wood and Heide Campbell were strong in the Love Bird defense.

INTERMEDIATES

Golden Spurs 4, Clover 0
The Spurs maintained their perfect record on goals by Nancy Melberg (2), Patty Nix and Mary Ann Maher, assists by Karin Groth and Carol Thielen (2), a shutout for Christy Eme, and excellent defense work by Patty Melberg and Maria Breen.

Clover 1, White Lightning 1
The Clover all put in a sterling performance to tie the Lightning on a goal by Tracy Christensen. The Lightning goal was popped in by Cindy Chope.

Blue Jeans 2, Rovers 0
Good team play, goals by Joanne McElman and Kelly Lyng, and shutout play by Sue Fraser and Marilee Richards brought the Jean win despite the good effort of Rovers Kristin McCarthy and Kim Allison.

SENIORS

Chickadees 2, Sea Gulls 1
Laura Francis and Anne Marie Schager scored for the Chickadees and Patti Reiter for the Gulls.

Robins 2, Doves 2
The Doves came within minutes of upsetting the league-leading Robins on goals by Carolyn Origer and Cathy Cudney and outstanding play by Mary Jo Skangel, Joan Naughton, Gail Monaco, Peggy Malouf, Jean Cole, and Belinda Foy. Karen Felix and Donna Veschuroff (on an assist by Lori Solimene) scored for the Robins.

Hersey's Zakula—a back with many football talents

by KEITH REINHARD

A 5.2 average per carry based on 725 yards and 140 tries: Not bad statistics . . . for a manager.

That would be Hersey's Matt Zakula, now the No. 3 rusher in the area although ball carrying may not be his specialty.

"He's a vicious blocking back," explained Huskie coach Joe Gliwa. "This is how Matt originally figured in our plans this fall and this is the area where I still feel he really excells. That he's rushed for a lot of yardage on his own is just so much frosting on the cake."

And what about managing?

"Well, Matt's a super manager too," Gliwa continued. "We found that out his sophomore year when he was sidelined for the season as player but still wanted to be close to football. We brought him up to help out with the varsity and this is where he earned his major letter . . . he was like an assistant coach to us."

Originally pegged to follow in his brother's footsteps as a quarterback, illness and injury kept Zakula mostly out of competition until his junior year and then he was brought back slowly . . . as a blocking back.

As the Hersey mentor described it, older brother Mark developed into a willowy quarterback that he compared to a deer. Matt on the other hand, at 6-1 and 198, has come on like a bull and his 100 yards average per game this season against the likes of Elgin, St. Viator, Prospect, Arlington, Wheeling, Buffalo Grove and Palatine puts him among a premier class of ball carriers, no matter what his quarterbacking, blocking . . . or managerial credentials might be.

Elsewhere in the rushing arena, Palatine's Jim Popp slipped over the grand mark to 1,015, maintaining his healthy lead in that department despite a monumental effort by Hersey's defense last week that prevented him from a seventh consecutive 100-plus weekend.

In receiving, the leadership maintained the status quo as well. Schaumburg's Brad Crawford was blanked by Prospect but kept a firm grip on the average yards per reception lead at 24.9.

Arlington's Tom North continues to set the pace in number of receptions (29), reception yardage (626) and touchdown passes hauled in (6).

North's battery mate, Matt Shaughnessy, also continues to hold up his end of the leadership — in passing. The senior Card thrower is now just 70 yards shy of hitting the 1000 mark himself and has pretty well wrapped up the lead in touchdown passes thrown with 11.

Shaughnessy is also the most accurate passer (a .609 completion rate) and has the most total completions (56) to his credit.

The topsy-turvy individual scoring race last week had Buffalo Grove's Ben Orcutt regaining the lead on the strength of a touchdown and one-point conversion while Popp and Saxon Russ Zonca were being shut out.

And making his first move onto the area scoring ladder over the past weekend was none other than Matt Zakula of Hersey.

Scoring prowess? — But that's another story.

Hersey's Zakula—a back with many football talents

by KEITH REINHARD

A 5.2 average per carry based on 725 yards and 140 tries: Not bad statistics . . . for a manager.

That would be Hersey's Matt Zakula, now the No. 3 rusher in the area although ball carrying may not be his specialty.

"He's a vicious blocking back," explained Huskie coach Joe Gliwa. "This is how Matt originally figured in our plans this fall and this is the area where I still feel he really excells. That he's rushed for a lot of yardage on his own is just so much frosting on the cake."

And what about managing?

"Well, Matt's a super manager too," Gliwa continued. "We found that out his sophomore year when he was sidelined for the season as player but still wanted to be close to football. We brought him up to help out with the varsity and this is where he earned his major letter . . . he was like an assistant coach to us."

Originally pegged to follow in his brother's footsteps as a quarterback, illness and injury kept Zakula mostly out of competition until his junior year and then he was brought back slowly . . . as a blocking back.

As the Hersey mentor described it, older brother Mark developed into a willowy quarterback that he compared to a deer. Matt on the other hand, at 6-1 and 198, has come on like a bull and his 100 yards average per game this season against the likes of Elgin, St. Viator, Prospect, Arlington, Wheeling, Buffalo Grove and Palatine puts him among a premier class of ball carriers, no matter what his quarterbacking, blocking . . . or managerial credentials might be.

Elsewhere in the rushing arena, Palatine's Jim Popp slipped over the grand mark to 1,015, maintaining his healthy lead in that department despite a monumental effort by Hersey's defense last week that prevented him from a seventh consecutive 100-plus weekend.

In receiving, the leadership maintained the status quo as well. Schaumburg's Brad Crawford was blanked by Prospect but kept a firm grip on the average yards per reception lead at 24.9.

Arlington's Tom North continues to set the pace in number of receptions (29), reception yardage (626) and touchdown passes hauled in (6).

North's battery mate, Matt Shaughnessy, also continues to hold up his end of the leadership — in passing. The senior Card thrower is now just 70 yards shy of hitting the 1000 mark himself and has pretty well wrapped up the lead in touchdown passes thrown with 11.

Shaughnessy is also the most accurate passer (a .609 completion rate) and has the most total completions (56) to his credit.

The topsy-turvy individual scoring race last week had Buffalo Grove's Ben Orcutt regaining the lead on the strength of a touchdown and one-point conversion while Popp and Saxon Russ Zonca were being shut out.

And making his first move onto the area scoring ladder over the past weekend was none other than Matt Zakula of Hersey.

Scoring prowess? — But that's another story.

CAPTIAN NICK Zambole of Palatine is the captain of the 1975 Mid-Suburban League all-conference golf team announced today by the coaches.

Palatine star Zambole named captain

Coaches honor 11 golfers on all-league team

by KEITH REINHARD
Golf Editor

Nick Zambole, Palatine's outstanding three-year veteran, has been named captain of the Mid-Suburban League all-conference golf team announced today by the coaches.

Zambole, who forged the lowest dual meet average this season, a stellar 36.1, and whose individual loop efforts included a sizzling record 31 round, joined with Mike Sievers to represent the conference champions on the 11-man all-star team.

Prospect and Buffalo Grove were the only two other schools to place more than one linksman in the elite lineup.

The Knight entries were Paul Moats, who claimed medalist honors at the MSL tourney last week, and Scott Spielmann, who also carded a 31 in circuit action this season and finished with the No. 2 dual meet average.

Bison selected to the team were Mike Marshall and Dan Krolack.

Rounding out the all-conference list were Mark Evans of Fremd, Joe Husar of Hoffman Estates, Dave Rice of Wheeling, Ed Stubbs of Hersey, and Jeff Gutowsky of Arlington.

In another MSL development, a hole-in-one recorded at the conference meet at Buffalo Grove was incorrectly credited by the Herald to Brett Burkhardt. Rolling Meadows teammate Scott Sander carded the ace, using a four wood on the 210-yard hole.

Forest View golfers 11th in state test

With Donna DeGrande tying for 29th on the medalist list, Forest View fashioned an 11th place team finish in the Illinois High School Association's girls state golf championships in Normal over the weekend.

Waukegan East came away with top squad laurels, edging Rockford Guilford 799-808 over the two-day, 36-hole gathering. The Falcons, coached by Paula Shearer, scored 879 to finish just about in the middle of the 22-team tourney, representing the best girl's links units in the state.

A total of 69 schools throughout Illinois had originally entered the competition at the district level.

DeGrande carded a 101 Friday and a 104 Saturday over the Illinois State University course. Out of 120 individual entries, Ann Atwood of Bloomington emerged first with an 86-90-176 and Dotti McLaughlin of Peoria Bergen was second at 92-85-177.

Rounding out scoring for Forest View were Bonnie Rogosch (106-109), Marita Rhea (116-106), Judy Pleickhardt (124-113), and Barb Baylis (133-118).

Champs crowned in golf meet for students, faculty

Donna Volanti and Donna DeGrande headed up winning teams at the third annual Forest View student-faculty golf tournament at Mount Prospect Country Club Monday.

Teaming up with faculty and Dist. 214 administrative members Warren Myers, Lee Thomson and Eric Bayles, Falcon Volanti's group came out with a low gross total of 25, based on seven holes.

Darkness prevented all 40 participants from completing regulation distance in scramble format tourney.

The team of DeGrande, Jim Schindler, Wes Roberts and Bob Freeman came up with the day's low net total of 20, using the Peoria handicap system.

The second low gross total of 26 was recorded by Pam Boggs, Bill Perkins, Paula Shearer and John Fish.

The foursome of Sue Ficek, Mark Thorne, Michelle Kirkpatrick and Dick Kinneman came up with the second low net total for afternoon, 21.

Maine North falters, 16-0

St. Joseph scored in the second and fourth quarters Saturday afternoon and posted a 16-0 victory over Maine North.

Roth scored on a 10-yard run in the second period and added the two-point conversion. Shermalis then crashed in from the one in the concluding quarter with Maher picking up the two points.

Ask Andy

Light a blend of rainbow colors

Andy sends a complete 20-volume set of the Merit Students Encyclopedia to Joseph P. Giblin, 10, of Staten Island, N.Y., for his question:

WHAT IS THE COLOR SPECTRUM?

We see the color spectrum in the rainbow and also when a sunbeam goes through the sloping sides of a glass prism. In both cases we see a series of colored rays, always arranged in the same order. This orderly arrangement is the color spectrum or ordinary light. The red ribbon merges with orange, which merges with yellow, then comes green and blue which merge to deep violet.

Ordinary light is invisible, though scientists call it white light. It's hard to believe that colorless light is a blend of the rainbow colors called the light spectrum.

This is possible because light is electromagnetic energy, a mysterious blend of electricity and magnetism. X-rays and radio are other forms of electromagnetic energy.

All these amazing energies pulse along in longer or shorter waves called wavelengths. X-rays are much shorter than light waves, and radio waves are much longer. All of them pulse along at the fantastic speed of 186,000 miles per second.

The wavelengths of light are measured in angstrom units. It takes 100 million angstrom units to equal a centimeter, which is slightly less than half an inch. The lengths of light waves range all the way from 4,0000 to 7,000 angstroms...

When a beam of light passes through a glass prism, its longer and shorter waves are bent at different angles. Shorter waves are bent most, longer waves are bent least. From here the different waves separate and angle off in different directions. The beam of light is separated into strands, and each strand reveals its true color.

The longer waves, in the 7,000-angstrom range, are bent least. They separate and angle off to reveal bands of red. Shorter and still shorter waves in the 6,000 range are bent more, and angle off in bands of orange and yellow. Still shorter waves reveal bands of green. The shortest waves, in the 4,000 range, bend at sharp angles and streak off in bands of blue.

Altogether, these rainbow ribbons reveal the color spectrum of ordinary light. The colors always appear in the same order for a good reason. Each one depends on certain wavelengths of energy — and different wavelengths angle off in different directions.

Andy sends a 7-volume set of the Chronicles of Narnia to Debbie Walsh, 9, of Portland, Me., for her question:

WHAT TREE DOES MAHOGANY COME FROM?

The best kind of mahogany wood comes from a stately tree that grows in the West Indies. Its straight trunk may grow 75 feet high, taller than a seven-story building. Its shady boughs stay green all year, and the leathery leaves are shaped somewhat like extra-large rose leaves. In summer it has clusters of tiny white flowers. Later these turn into fat, round seed pods.

This mahogany tree can be coaxed to grow in Florida, Central America and parts of South America. Other mahogany-type trees grow in Africa. The wood from all these trees is just right for making fine furniture. It is soft enough to cut and carve, hard enough to last a long time. It sheds water, and most insects refuse to chew holes in it. Best of all, mahogany wood can be polished to show lovely designs. Its color may be pale or medium brown or a deep, dark rusty red that glows like a butterfly's wings.

Short club opening works on big hand

Win at bridge

by Oswald and Jim Jacoby

The utility one club opening is usually made with a balanced hand that is too weak for one notrump. Thus, with 19 high-card points, North opened one club. His jump rebid to two notrump showed this exact hand.

With 11 high-card points of his own, South merely raised to three notrump. North had been heading for the spade game all the time and proceeded to bid four spades to announce specifically that he had 19 or maybe 20 points with four spades and three cards in each other suit. South revalued his hand and decided to invite a slam by going to five spades. North's values were mostly in aces, kings and good trumps and he went on to the slam.

Mathematically, the slam is not a really good one. The ace of clubs must be lost. With all four trumps in one hand there is a sure trump loser and in any event the diamond queen must be located.

South started out by playing three rounds of trumps. East's first discard was the three of diamonds, his next one the five of clubs.

This diamond discard gave South all the help he needed. He didn't play diamonds right away, but when he got around to the suit he finessed against East and made his slam.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Being fired — that's 'the real thing'

by BARRY SIGALE

Abe Gibron, all 300 pounds of romping, stomping dynamite, circled the hors d'oeuvres table, muttering something about the down-and-out Chicago Bears.

Abruptly, he shifted gears, as though he remembered something from his past, like one of his inept football players fumbling to the other team.

"Coca-Cola is great," big Abe extolled, firmly realizing his place as one of three sports celebrities on hand to plant kisses on Coca-Cola's new 64-ounce bottle. "Of course, I've been drinking it all my life."

To the best of anyone's knowledge neither Gibron, Harry "Holy Cow" Caray, nor John "Red" Kerr, ever put a soft-drink to their lips the whole three hours of the bash sponsored by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Chicago and held at the Hyatt House Regency O'Hare Hotel last week.

FIVE-HUNDRED persons, most of them representing the same stores that will be selling the 13-inch tall, 7-pound bottle for 75 cents each, were treated to some off-the-cuff sports talk from the trio that had one important thing in common: they've all just been fired.

Gibron was former head coach of the Bears and the now-defunct Chicago Winds of the soon-to-be-defunct World Football League. Caray was fired a few weeks ago during a widely talked about television interview. Kerr, whose dismissal didn't get much play because few people knew he had even come back to Chicago, was tossed on the street by the Bulls. He had returned from Virginia to be business manager.

They were there, Gibron, Caray and Kerr, not so much to say Coca-Cola was wonderful or that it gave them a more positive mental attitude, but to draw a crowd. According to Coca-Cola, they were the most controversial figures around. If those invited bought the premise, they would surely buy the bit.

Caray was the most popular of the three. He spun some baseball yarns and talked tough as always about the inconsistent people in the sports world, a charitable way of saying he criticized those he felt didn't make a full attempt to do their jobs well.

He held impromptu hot stove league sessions around the second floor swimming pool where the gathering took place.

IS IT TRUE you'll have trouble hooking on as broadcaster with the White Sox if Bill Veeck is the owner because you're louder than the exploding scoreboard he introduced to Chicago in the 1950s?

"Bill Veeck and I go together like ham and eggs," Caray said. "I'm the same kind of guy. I get out and meet the people, I go out in the stands, I bring fun to the old ballpark."

Caray said what he has been saying ever since John Allyn fired him while being interviewed by Channel 2 sportscaster Johnny Morris. "That John Allyn is stupid," Caray said.

His language became more descriptive as he launched into an explanation of the failure of the Sox to win. Behind him he spotted Channel 5's Greg Gumbel. Caray playfully searched for a hidden tape recorder, then accompanied Gumbel for a filmed interview. "We'll say the same thing on the air boys, hah, hah, hah," Carey assured his fans. One thing about Caray, he doesn't tell stories out of school. His are the same in public or private.

As the threesome moved around, some classic images developed. One person joked he half-expected a stunt in which Caray and Kerr would hold up a 64-ounce bottle and Gibron would swig it down in one gulp. Another said Kerr, 6-9, and Gibron, might be the new Laurel and Hardy. A third said he thought Caray was going to faint when he saw all that "pop" but then realized there was plenty of booze available.

WHILE TELEVISION cameras whirred, Caray and Gibron clinked glasses and Abe threw a bottle on his shoulder as if it were as light as a football. Actually, the new bottle is made of three pounds of glass and four pounds of Coca-Cola.

Caray was asked to say a few words to the masses. After two hours, they were about as loose as an untied shoe.

"The hell with Falstaff (a White Sox sponsor), bring me a Coca-Cola," Caray shouted. "You have a wonderful new package there. I've got to believe Abe Gibron had something to do with the design of the package, hah, hah, hah." Later he said, "the three of us have one thing in common, we've all just been fired, for Chrissakes."

A Coca-Cola executive tried his hand at a joke:

"It has (the bottle) the size of Johnny Kerr, the heft of Abe Gibron and the wide mouth like Harry Caray."

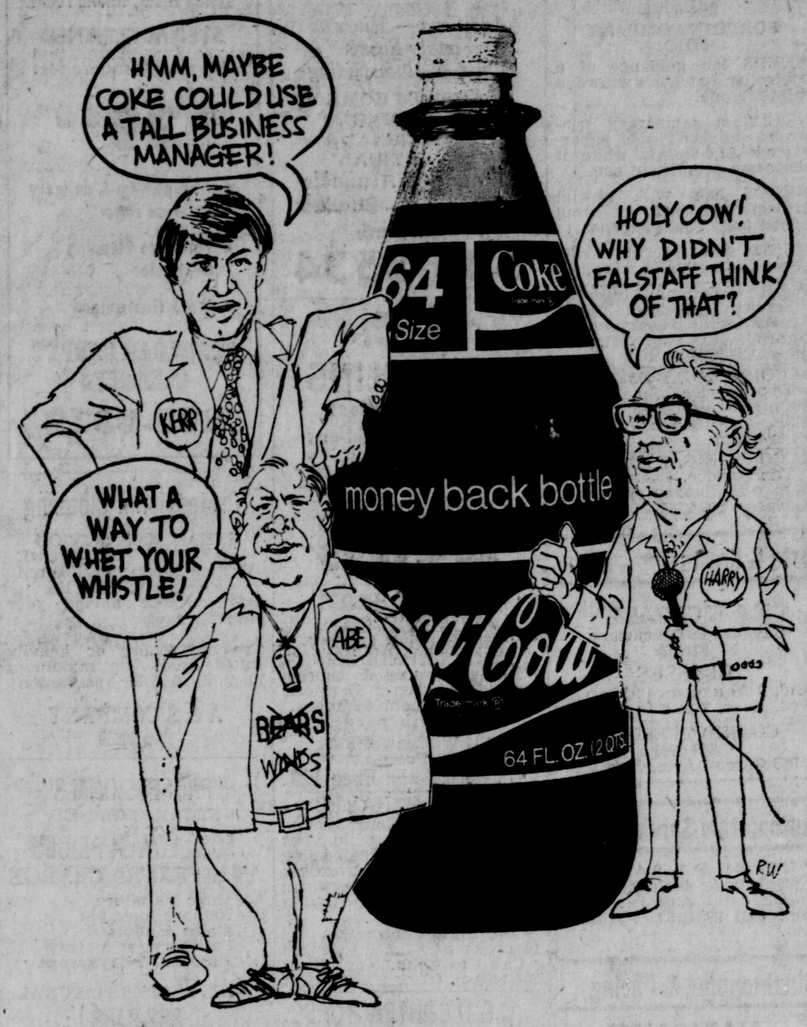
With the formalities out of the way, a drawing was held for a 7-day trip to the Caribbean. As luck would have it, Gumbel's named was picked from a hopper.

"He's not here," some people in the crowd shouted. They booed.

"YOU DID HAVE to be present to win," said Mike Gerber, a publicist for Coca-Cola. "He WAS here." The booing persisted and Gerber was told to draw another name. The next winner was Mr. and Mrs. Jay Krejci, of Streamwood Certified. They were cheered.

Later, Gerber, said, "We wanted a customer to go. I would have drawn all night to get one." In fairness, he said, Gumbel also would be offered a trip. Gumbel Thursday said he would accept as long as he wasn't taking the trip away from someone else.

So everyone went home happy with free bottles of Coca-Cola tucked under their arms. The company gave away 1,000 bottles at a cost to them of $750. In sum, the evening was, as the slogan says, "a pause that refreshes."



Stock prices advance; Dow Jones gains 4.57

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices moved higher in active trading Tuesday on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which had been ahead more than seven points earlier in the session, finished the day up 4.57 to 846.82. The blue chip indicator climbed 10.07 points Monday, but it was revised upward from a gain of 9.84 points two hours after the market closed. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose 0.74 to 90.56. The price of an average NYSE common share added 25 cents.

Advances led declines, 971 to 454, among the 1,854 issues traded. Earlier in the day gainers held a 4-1 lead over losers.

VOLUME TOTALED 20,800,000 shares, compared with 13,250,000 shares traded Monday.

G. D. Searle led the Big Board actives, up 5/8 to 16½ on 467,400 shares, including a block of 352,500 shares at 16. General Motors was second, up ½ to 55¼ on 244,700 shares. Polaroid followed, down 1 1/8 to 38¾ on 206,000 shares.

Most major stock groups recorded fractional gains, but the steels and gold issues weakened.

The blue chips moved into plus territory. American Telephone & Telegraph, also on the active list, added 7/8 to 49 3/8.

BUCKING THE general market trend, the golds lost ground.

Prices closed higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. The price of an average share rose five cents. Volume amounted to 1,753,000 shares, up from the 1,419,000 shares changing hands Monday.

Being fired — that's 'the real thing'

by BARRY SIGALE

Abe Gibron, all 300 pounds of romping, stomping dynamite, circled the hors d'oeuvres table, muttering something about the down-and-out Chicago Bears.

Abruptly, he shifted gears, as though he remembered something from his past, like one of his inept football players fumbling to the other team.

"Coca-Cola is great," big Abe extolled, firmly realizing his place as one of three sports celebrities on hand to plant kisses on Coca-Cola's new 64-ounce bottle. "Of course, I've been drinking it all my life."

To the best of anyone's knowledge neither Gibron, Harry "Holy Cow" Caray, nor John "Red" Kerr, ever put a soft-drink to their lips the whole three hours of the bash sponsored by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Chicago and held at the Hyatt House Regency O'Hare Hotel last week.

FIVE-HUNDRED persons, most of them representing the same stores that will be selling the 13-inch tall, 7-pound bottle for 75 cents each, were treated to some off-the-cuff sports talk from the trio that had one important thing in common: they've all just been fired.

Gibron was former head coach of the Bears and the now-defunct Chicago Winds of the soon-to-be-defunct World Football League. Caray was fired a few weeks ago during a widely talked about television interview. Kerr, whose dismissal didn't get much play because few people knew he had even come back to Chicago, was tossed on the street by the Bulls. He had returned from Virginia to be business manager.

They were there, Gibron, Caray and Kerr, not so much to say Coca-Cola was wonderful or that it gave them a more positive mental attitude, but to draw a crowd. According to Coca-Cola, they were the most controversial figures around. If those invited bought the premise, they would surely buy the bit.

Caray was the most popular of the three. He spun some baseball yarns and talked tough as always about the inconsistent people in the sports world, a charitable way of saying he criticized those he felt didn't make a full attempt to do their jobs well.

He held impromptu hot stove league sessions around the second floor swimming pool where the gathering took place.

IS IT TRUE you'll have trouble hooking on as broadcaster with the White Sox if Bill Veeck is the owner because you're louder than the exploding scoreboard he introduced to Chicago in the 1950s?

"Bill Veeck and I go together like ham and eggs," Caray said. "I'm the same kind of guy. I get out and meet the people, I go out in the stands, I bring fun to the old ballpark."

Caray said what he has been saying ever since John Allyn fired him while being interviewed by Channel 2 sportscaster Johnny Morris. "That John Allyn is stupid," Caray said.

His language became more descriptive as he launched into an explanation of the failure of the Sox to win. Behind him he spotted Channel 5's Greg Gumbel. Caray playfully searched for a hidden tape recorder, then accompanied Gumbel for a filmed interview. "We'll say the same thing on the air boys, hah, hah, hah," Carey assured his fans. One thing about Caray, he doesn't tell stories out of school. His are the same in public or private.

As the threesome moved around, some classic images developed. One person joked he half-expected a stunt in which Caray and Kerr would hold up a 64-ounce bottle and Gibron would swig it down in one gulp. Another said Kerr, 6-9, and Gibron, might be the new Laurel and Hardy. A third said he thought Caray was going to faint when he saw all that "pop" but then realized there was plenty of booze available.

WHILE TELEVISION cameras whirred, Caray and Gibron clinked glasses and Abe threw a bottle on his shoulder as if it were as light as a football. Actually, the new bottle is made of three pounds of glass and four pounds of Coca-Cola.

Caray was asked to say a few words to the masses. After two hours, they were about as loose as an untied shoe.

"The hell with Falstaff (a White Sox sponsor), bring me a Coca-Cola," Caray shouted. "You have a wonderful new package there. I've got to believe Abe Gibron had something to do with the design of the package, hah, hah, hah." Later he said, "the three of us have one thing in common, we've all just been fired, for Chrissakes."

A Coca-Cola executive tried his hand at a joke:

"It has (the bottle) the size of Johnny Kerr, the heft of Abe Gibron and the wide mouth like Harry Caray."

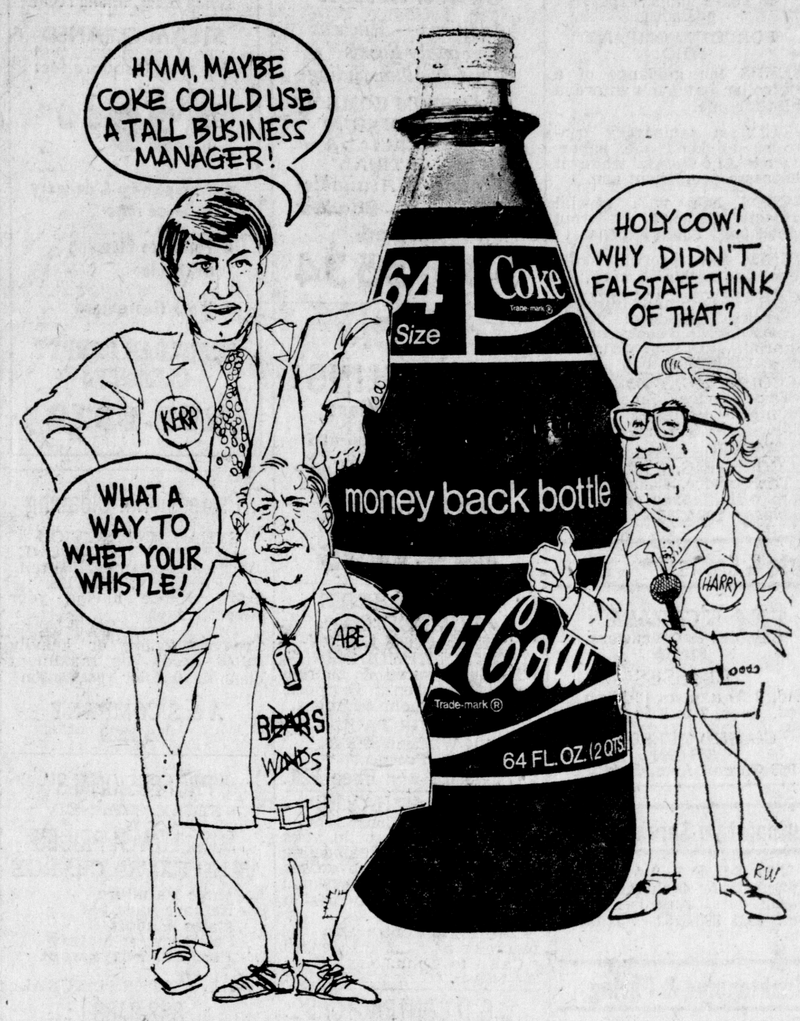
With the formalities out of the way, a drawing was held for a 7-day trip to the Caribbean. As luck would have it, Gumbel's named was picked from a hopper.

"He's not here," some people in the crowd shouted. They booed.

"YOU DID HAVE to be present to win," said Mike Gerber, a publicist for Coca-Cola. "He WAS here." The booing persisted and Gerber was told to draw another name. The next winner was Mr. and Mrs. Jay Krejci, of Streamwood Certified. They were cheered.

Later, Gerber, said, "We wanted a customer to go. I would have drawn all night to get one." In fairness, he said, Gumbel also would be offered a trip. Gumbel Thursday said he would accept as long as he wasn't taking the trip away from someone else.

So everyone went home happy with free bottles of Coca-Cola tucked under their arms. The company gave away 1,000 bottles at a cost to them of $750. In sum, the evening was, as the slogan says, "a pause that refreshes."



Stock prices advance; Dow Jones gains 4.57

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices moved higher in active trading Tuesday on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which had been ahead more than seven points earlier in the session, finished the day up 4.57 to 846.82. The blue chip indicator climbed 10.07 points Monday, but it was revised upward from a gain of 9.84 points two hours after the market closed. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose 0.74 to 90.56. The price of an average NYSE common share added 25 cents.

Advances led declines, 971 to 454, among the 1,854 issues traded. Earlier in the day gainers held a 4-1 lead over losers.

VOLUME TOTALED 20,800,000 shares, compared with 13,250,000 shares traded Monday.

G. D. Searle led the Big Board actives, up 5/8 to 16½ on 467,400 shares, including a block of 352,500 shares at 16. General Motors was second, up ½ to 55¼ on 244,700 shares. Polaroid followed, down 1 1/8 to 38¾ on 206,000 shares.

Most major stock groups recorded fractional gains, but the steels and gold issues weakened.

The blue chips moved into plus territory. American Telephone & Telegraph, also on the active list, added 7/8 to 49 3/8.

BUCKING THE general market trend, the golds lost ground.

Prices closed higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. The price of an average share rose five cents. Volume amounted to 1,753,000 shares, up from the 1,419,000 shares changing hands Monday.

Ordinance No. 1023

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND CERTAIN SECTIONS OF CHAPTER XVII OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE OF THE VILLAGE OF ELK GROVE VILLAGE TO PROVIDE FOR THE IMPOUNDING AND DISPOSITION OF STRAY ANIMALS

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED, by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Elk Grove Village, Counties of Cook and DuPage, Illinois, that the following sections of Chapter XVII of the Municipal Code be amended to read as follows:

Section 1: 17.209 Redemption of licensed dogs.) Any dog for which the license fee for the current year has been paid, which may during such year be impounded or taken up for being at large, and if without a collar or harness and license tag, for which satisfactory proof shall be given to an officer of the Police Department by affidavit of the owner thereof, or by other satisfactory proof, that such dog was so licensed and that a collar was around its neck with a license tag attached thereto or harness placed and kept about the body of such dog with a license tag attached thereto as provided in this ordinance, and that such collar or harness and tag has been lost or taken from such dog, may be redeemed by the owner of such dog upon payment of a fee of $3.00 for the taking up or impounding of such dog and the payment of the cost of keeping such dog while impounded. If, at the expiration of two days from the date of impounding, such dog shall not have been redeemed by the owner thereof, the Animal Control Warden may dispose of such dog.

Section 2: 17.210 Redemption of unlicensed dogs). Any unlicensed dog which shall have been impounded may be redeemed by the owner of such dog or the agent of the owner on payment of the sum of $6.00 as a fee for taking up or impounding such dog, plus the annual license fee provided herein, and the cost of keeping such dog while impounded. If any such dog be not redeemed within two days after being impounded, such dog may be disposed of by the Animal Control Warden.

Section 3: 17.304 Redemption or disposal of cats.) If an impounded cat is redeemed by the owner or keeper thereof, an impounding fee of $5.00, plus the cost of keeping such cat during its impoundment, shall be paid by such owner or keeper, if an impounded cat is not claimed within two days, the cat may be disposed of in a humane manner.

Anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding, no cat suspected of having rabies shall be released within less than 10 days following its impounding.

Section 4: That this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication, according to law.

PASSED this 14th day of October, 1975.

Notice of Public Hearing

The Division of Water Resources, Department of Transportation, pursuant to the provisions of "An Act in relation to the regulation of the rivers, lakes and streams of the State of Illinois," approved June 10, 1911, as amended, particularly Section 18f thereof, will conduct a public hearing on Wednesday, October 29, 1975, at the Holiday Inn, 3405 Algonquin Road, (I-90 & Route 53), Rolling Meadows, Illinois 60008.

This public hearing has been scheduled by the Division of Water Resources to consider implementation of the provisions of said Section 18f of the Act of June 10, 1911, as amended, with respect to definition, planning, development, improvement and other aspects of such legislation relating to regulation and management of the flood plain in and along the Upper Salt Creek Basin in Cook County, Illinois, and will commence at 8:00 p.m. on such date.

The hearing should provide information to assist the undersigned in making a determination relative to any further action which may be taken by the Division of Water Resources concerning this matter.

All interested individuals, groups or agencies are invited and urged to be present or represented at this hearing. Everyone will be given an opportunity to express his views and furnish specific information and data to document the record on all aspects of the delineation and management of flood plain on Upper Salt Creek Basin. Technical data related to the flood plain definition and delineation should be considered pertinent to this matter.

Oral statements will be heard, but for accuracy of the record, important matters of fact should be submitted in writing. Written statements may be handed or otherwise delivered to the Hearing Officer during the course of the hearing.

State aid to schools hot topic awaits legislature

The question of state aid to schools, already simmering and occasionally boiling over in days past, will be the hottest topic when legislators meet today for the fall veto session.

Gov. Daniel Walker planned to address a joint session of the Illinois General Assembly to ask in a "low key" manner that the Legislature uphold his vetoes on school aid and other money matters totaling $545 million, press secretary Norton Kay said.

Education groups say they plan a rally and a walk on the Capitol Thursday to drum up support for an override.

In a side issue, meanwhile, Walker took on the three major televion networks, asking the Federal Communications Commission to force their Chicago affiliates to televise 30-second commercials backing his position on a state school funds issue.

Sadowski hits firing

Bernard J. Sadowski said in Chicago Tuesday he was fired by Gov. Daniel Walker as state fire marshal because he refused to hire political operatives for the governor.

Sadowski, 56, was discharged Monday for allegedly violating an executive order forbidding state employes from solititing political funds.

Our bacon's good: Butz

"Our bacon is good," Agriculture Sec. Earl Butz said Tuesday, maintaining the rhubarb about bacon containing cancer causing agents was an "emotional reaction" which would pass. At a news conference in Chicago Butz said a person would have to eat 4,200 pounds of bacon per year in order to produce the cancer which was found in rats injected with the nitrites in bacon.

"Personally," Butz said, "my appetite is not that great and I couldn't afford it anyway."

Jury selection begins

Jury selection began in Chicago Tuesday in the trial of Robert Martinez, 42, accused of the 1972 kidnaping and murder of west suburban Hillside Patrolman Anthony Raymond. Martinez was one of three men accused of kidnaping Raymond on Oct. 1, 1972.

Raymond's body was found in a shallow grave near Rhinelander, Wis.

State aid to schools hot topic awaits legislature

The question of state aid to schools, already simmering and occasionally boiling over in days past, will be the hottest topic when legislators meet today for the fall veto session.

Gov. Daniel Walker planned to address a joint session of the Illinois General Assembly to ask in a "low key" manner that the Legislature uphold his vetoes on school aid and other money matters totaling $545 million, press secretary Norton Kay said.

Education groups say they plan a rally and a walk on the Capitol Thursday to drum up support for an override.

In a side issue, meanwhile, Walker took on the three major televion networks, asking the Federal Communications Commission to force their Chicago affiliates to televise 30-second commercials backing his position on a state school funds issue.

Sadowski hits firing

Bernard J. Sadowski said in Chicago Tuesday he was fired by Gov. Daniel Walker as state fire marshal because he refused to hire political operatives for the governor.

Sadowski, 56, was discharged Monday for allegedly violating an executive order forbidding state employes from solititing political funds.

Our bacon's good: Butz

"Our bacon is good," Agriculture Sec. Earl Butz said Tuesday, maintaining the rhubarb about bacon containing cancer causing agents was an "emotional reaction" which would pass. At a news conference in Chicago Butz said a person would have to eat 4,200 pounds of bacon per year in order to produce the cancer which was found in rats injected with the nitrites in bacon.

"Personally," Butz said, "my appetite is not that great and I couldn't afford it anyway."

Jury selection begins

Jury selection began in Chicago Tuesday in the trial of Robert Martinez, 42, accused of the 1972 kidnaping and murder of west suburban Hillside Patrolman Anthony Raymond. Martinez was one of three men accused of kidnaping Raymond on Oct. 1, 1972.

Raymond's body was found in a shallow grave near Rhinelander, Wis.

Inflammation of pancreas can be cause of diabetes

I have been a diabetic for about five years. The cause of my condition is an infection of the pancreas at one time. This weakened it to a point where it doesn't function. Will you please let me know what effects this would have and what harm it will do to one's body? Can it cause gangrene? Why doesn't the doctor remove it?

Diabetes is commonly associated with abnormal function of the islets of Langerhans, the tiny islands of specialized tissue inside the pancreas. It is true that an inflammation of the pancreas may lead to damage of these small islets and cause diabetes. Recently it has been observed that there is a close correlation between diabetes in childhood and mumps. The mumps may involve the pancreas in the same way they involve the salivary glands at the angle of the jaw.

The pancreas has a lot of other functions, and the rest of it may be doing very well, even if the islets are damaged. You need the enzymes formed by the rest of the pancreas for normal digestion. There is no reason at all to remove the pancreas and a good many reasons not to if you want to stay healthy. Even a weakened pancreas that still provides needed enzymes is better than none at all, independent of whether insulin is formed in sufficient quantities by the islets within it.

There are innumerable complications of diabetes, including gangrene if the circulation is involved. The best way to avoid these is by following good management under a doctor's supervision. That usually means a good dietary program and may or may not mean that you will also have to take insulin. The range of possibilities is so great that you have to adjust the management to the individual situation.

Recently my sister-in-law died of a heart attack. She was only 27 years old. A doctor and a nurse both asked if she was on birth control pills. She was. I thought they were safe. Why would they ask this?

The doctor says
by Lawrence E. Lamb

At the time of your sister's death there was no hard evidence that birth control pills were associated with heart attacks. The doctor and nurse probably asked the question because of the repeated association of birth control pills with blood clot formation.

Since then a British report by the same group who first stirred up a hornet's nest over clots causing strokes have reported an increased incidence of heart attacks in women using the pill. Women over 40 are said to be 4.7 times as likely to have a heart attack if they take the pill compared to those who don't. In the 30 to 39 year age group the rate is 2.8 times that in non-pill users.

Keep in mind that the incidence of heart attacks in women below 40 is relatively rare and below 30 almost nonexistent. Even 10 times a zero incidence isn't very important.

The use of the pill in most younger women is safe. The Food and Drug Administration has suggested that women over 40 should use some other method of birth control. That recommendation may be premature and reviews by other groups that are sure to come, plus new studies may change this view.
